Ohio Highway Fatalities Down To 12 For Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic deaths dropped to an even dozen in Ohio over the weekend, the lowest toll for the 6 p.m. Friday - Sunday mid-night period in several weeks.

Weekend fatalities took a sharp decline a week ago when 15 deaths were reported.

The decline came on the heels of three consecutive weekends in which a total of 104 persons died.

The victims:

FRIDAY NIGHT
SANDUSKY — Patricia J. Heisberger, 36, Sandusky, in a two-car crash about one mile west of U.S. 6 on Ohio 2 in Erie County.

TOLEDO — Jeanetta Varga, 51, Lincoln Park, Mich., in a four-car pileup about three miles south of suburban Northwood on the Detroit-Toledo Expressway.

SATURDAY
TOLEDO — William Watson, 53, of suburban Monclova, died near Maumee when his car skidded on the Anthony Wayne Trailway and struck a tree.

PAULDING — Tilford B. Young, 34, rural Oakwood, Paulding County, on a Paulding County road one mile south of Melrose when his car left the road on a curve, went over an embankment and struck a tree.

MANSFIELD — Green D. Moore, 56, Mansfield, when his car left a county road north of Mansfield and slammed into a tree.

EDWARD KREISEL

Mr. Edward Kreisel, 93, a prominent Pickaway Twp. farmer, died 6 a. m. today at the brick farmhouse near Scippo Creek where he has lived for the past 55 years.

He was born April 27, 1876 in Ross County. He moved to Pickaway County in 1908.

His wife, Mrs. Mary Fry Kreisel, preceded him in death.

He has been retired from active farming for several years. Mr. Kreisel was a member of the Circleville BPO Elks Lodge and the Emmett Chapel United Methodist Church.

He is survived by one son, Charles, Route 1; one daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Hatten, Columbus; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be 2 p.m. Wednesday in Hill Funeral Home, Kingston, with the Rev. Foster Jenne officiating.

Burial will be in Bethel Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 1 p.m. Tuesday. Elks Memorial services will be conducted 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Police Slay Man In Columbus Incident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police said they shot and killed Riley Towns, 20, Saturday night when he came at them with a knife as they entered his apartment.

Detectives went to Towns' apartment on a report that he had abducted a 14-year-old girl after earlier attempting to rape another woman. Police said the young girl was treated at a hospital for shock.

Lunar Gravity Grips Apollo 12 Moon Explorers

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — America's Apollo 12 explorers swept into the grip of lunar gravity today as the good ship Yankee Clipper hurtled unerringly toward a Monday night orbit of the moon.

Their target, a shimmering silver crescent, loomed larger and larger as their home planet shrank in the distance.

At 8:38 a.m., astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean zipped through a so-called "twilight zone" in which the gravitational influence of the earth and moon are equal.

Once across this invisible line, lunar gravity took hold and Apollo 12's speed accelerated after slowing to about 1,500 miles an hour on the long outward coast. The ship was 211,322 miles from earth and 38,933 miles from the moon.

The speed will increase to about 5,700 miles an hour as the astronauts loop behind the moon's backside tonight. At north of Greenville on U.S. 127 in Darke County.

SUNDAY
DELPHOS — Florence E. Heid, 39, Celina, was killed in a three-car accident one mile west of Delphos on U.S. 30 in Van Wert County.

CINCINNATI — Willie Allen Stallworth, 38, Cincinnati, when his car struck a road divider in the Walnut Hills section, hit a utility pole and a parked car.

OTTAWA — Marion Staszewski, 52, Lima, when his car ran off Ohio 115 in Putnam County about five miles north of the Allen County line.

Joe Kennedy Near Death, Reports Say

Patriarch Hit By Heart Attack At Hyannis Port

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — Former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, father of an American political dynasty, was reported near death today at his seaside home in the Kennedy compound on Cape Cod.

His sole surviving son, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., was at his bedside.

His condition was described as "very low" by his son-in-law, Ambassador Sargent Shriver, shortly before 8 a.m.

"The end is only a matter of hours away," Shriver told a newsman after attending early morning Mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church in Hyannis.

Kennedy, father of the late President John F. Kennedy, is 81 and has been in poor health for eight years.

He suffered what a doctor said was a minor heart attack over the weekend.

Shriver said the former ambassador has been unable to eat for several days.

Shriver and his wife, Eunice, Kennedy's eldest daughter, flew here Sunday from Paris. Shriver is U.S. ambassador to France.

Mrs. Rose Kennedy, matriarch of the Kennedy clan, also attended Mass this morning at St. Francis Xavier's, though not with Shriver. She entered the tiny church quickly, and remained inside for several minutes after the service was over.

There was no word on whether Kennedy was conscious, but one unofficial source said he was given the last rites of the Roman Catholic Church Sunday.

Sato Leaves For Talks In America

TOKYO (AP) — While an estimated 700,000 leftist students and workers demonstrated throughout Japan against his trip, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato left for Washington today to talks with President Nixon on the return of Okinawa to Japan.

The biggest police turnout in memory kept the leftists from making good on their threat to prevent Sato's departure.

Some 22,000 riot police and plainclothesmen guarded the roads to Tokyo's international airport. Another 3,000 men were deployed throughout the terminal building.

Police reported no incidents at the rainswept airport.

But at Kamata, site of a railway station 1½ miles from the airport, riot police fired tear gas and battled briefly with an estimated 2,500 students trying to reach the airport. Police arrested 168 of the students, including eight girls.

Sunday night, thousands of radicals had hurled gasoline bombs and battled police in riots near the airport and other sections of Tokyo. Police arrested 1,690 of those leftists.

Sato, Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi and other officials took helicopters to the airport to escape the demonstrators.

Explosion Racks East Side Home Early Sunday Morn

SUNDAY'S TRAGEDY — Shown is the room where Daisy Morgan was sleeping when the gas explosion blew the house apart. Mrs. Morgan was thrown out of the house and into the neighbor's yard. She is still in critical condition at University Hospital with third degree burns over one fourth of her body.

Mrs. Daisy Morgan, 579 E. Franklin St., is in "critical" condition today in University Hospital, suffering from third degree burns over 35 per cent of her body.

Mrs. Morgan's house exploded at 3:58 a.m. Sunday when an accumulation of natural gas was ignited by a pilot light on the kitchen stove.

Circleville Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe said today the cause of the explosion had been traced to a ruptured gas line near the foundation of the house.

Wolfe said gas apparently leaked along the gas line into the foundation walls of the house. From there it was drawn into the cold air ducts of the heating system and circulated into the house.

THE explosion occurred on the first floor, Mrs. Morgan was believed blown from the house by the explosion.

When neighbors, awakened by the blast, arrived to give assistance a few seconds after the explosion, they found her on the outside.

She was rushed to Berger Hospital where she was given emergency treatment and then transferred to University Hospital, Columbus.

Her home was completely demolished by the blast. The east and west walls were blown out and the interior was damaged extensively.

The Circleville Fire Department was called to the scene and extinguished the fire. Members of the department were on the scene for an hour and 45 minutes.

The Circleville Police Department and the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department assisted in controlling traffic and investigating the explosion.

MRS. Morgan lived by herself in the house.

Windows in the neighboring house of Sanford Edler, 583 E. Franklin St. were shattered by the blast.

During the night, about 20 552 bombers dropped some 600 tons of bombs on other North Vietnamese targets less than two miles inside South Vietnam between Bu Prang and Duc Lap, another Special Forces camp 25 miles to the north.

U.S. officials did not say whether Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, had given permission to bomb within his frontiers.

Sihanouk has often charged U.S. and South Vietnamese forces with attacking Cambodian villages along the border, but he has acknowledged that large numbers of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops are operating inside his country, and he can't do anything about them.

The American observation plane downed Sunday was reported hit by anti-aircraft fire about half a mile across the border as it was directing American bombers attacking the North Vietnamese artillery that had been shelling Bu Prang.

The two pilots made an emergency landing at Bu Prang and were reported unhurt.

More American bombers were called in, and observation pilots said two artillery pieces were destroyed, there were two secondary explosions and the other guns were silenced.

Elsewhere, South Vietnamese militiamen backed by navy junks, bombers and artillery reported 62 enemy soldiers killed and another 45 suspected Viet Cong round up in a battle 15 miles south of Da Nang. Seven militiamen were killed and 25 wounded.

Miss Barbara Massaro of Canfield in Mahoning County died at South Side Hospital with head and internal injuries. In serious condition at the hospital are the driver, Ronald Leupe, 21, and a passenger, William Kirwan, 20, both of Canfield.

Miss Massaro represented Youngstown in the Miss World state beauty pageant in Cleveland last August.

Call Move Inherent Right Of Defense

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. bombers crossed the Cambodian border today for the second day of strikes against North Vietnamese artillery pounding the Bu Prang Special Forces camp on the South Vietnamese side of the border.

The U.S. Command said the air and artillery strikes against the gun positions inside Cambodia, which began Sunday, were "an inherent right of self-defense against enemy attacks."

The American bombers returned to Cambodia's skies after a two-hour North Vietnamese artillery bombardment early today against a South Vietnamese task force headquarters a mile southeast of Bu Prang.

Ten South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded, but the results of the retaliatory air strike were not immediately reported.

South Vietnamese infantrymen clashed twice later in the day with North Vietnamese soldiers southeast of Bu Prang. Nine enemy soldiers were killed, and there were no South Vietnamese casualties, spokesmen said.

On Sunday, American fighter-bombers streaked across the border near Bu Prang to attack 85mm and 105mm artillery and 37mm anti-aircraft guns.

The U.S. Command said the artillery had fired more than 100 rounds at the camp, 110 miles northeast of Saigon, while the anti-aircraft guns had forced down a small American observation plane.

The command said the raiders destroyed two North Vietnamese guns and silenced the others.

During the night, about 20 552 bombers dropped some 600 tons of bombs on other North Vietnamese targets less than two miles inside South Vietnam between Bu Prang and Duc Lap, another Special Forces camp 25 miles to the north.

U.S. And Russia Begin Arms Limitation Talks

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — U.S. and Soviet envoys met today to begin preparations for arms limitation talks, and President Nixon told his delegation he hopes for a halt to the nuclear arms race and eventually its reversal.

"You are embarking upon one of the most momentous negotiations ever entrusted to an American delegation," Nixon said in a special message read by chief U.S. negotiator Gerard C. Smith at the opening of the talks first proposed by President Lyndon B. Johnson three years ago.

Nixon declared a curb on the missile race would help both the United States and the Soviet Union without damaging their legitimate defense needs.

"Today . . . you will begin what all of your fellow citizens in the United States, and I believe, all people throughout the world, profoundly hope will be a sustained effort not only to limit the buildup of strategic forces but to reverse it . . .

"We seek no unilateral advantage. Nor do we seek arrangements which could be prejudicial to the interests of third parties."

Nixon said it is possible that both powers can carry out their defense responsibilities "under a mutually acceptable limitation and eventual reduction of our strategic arsenals."

Chief Soviet negotiator Vladimir S. Semenov and Ahti Karjalainen, foreign minister of the host Finnish government, joined in voicing support for the talks.

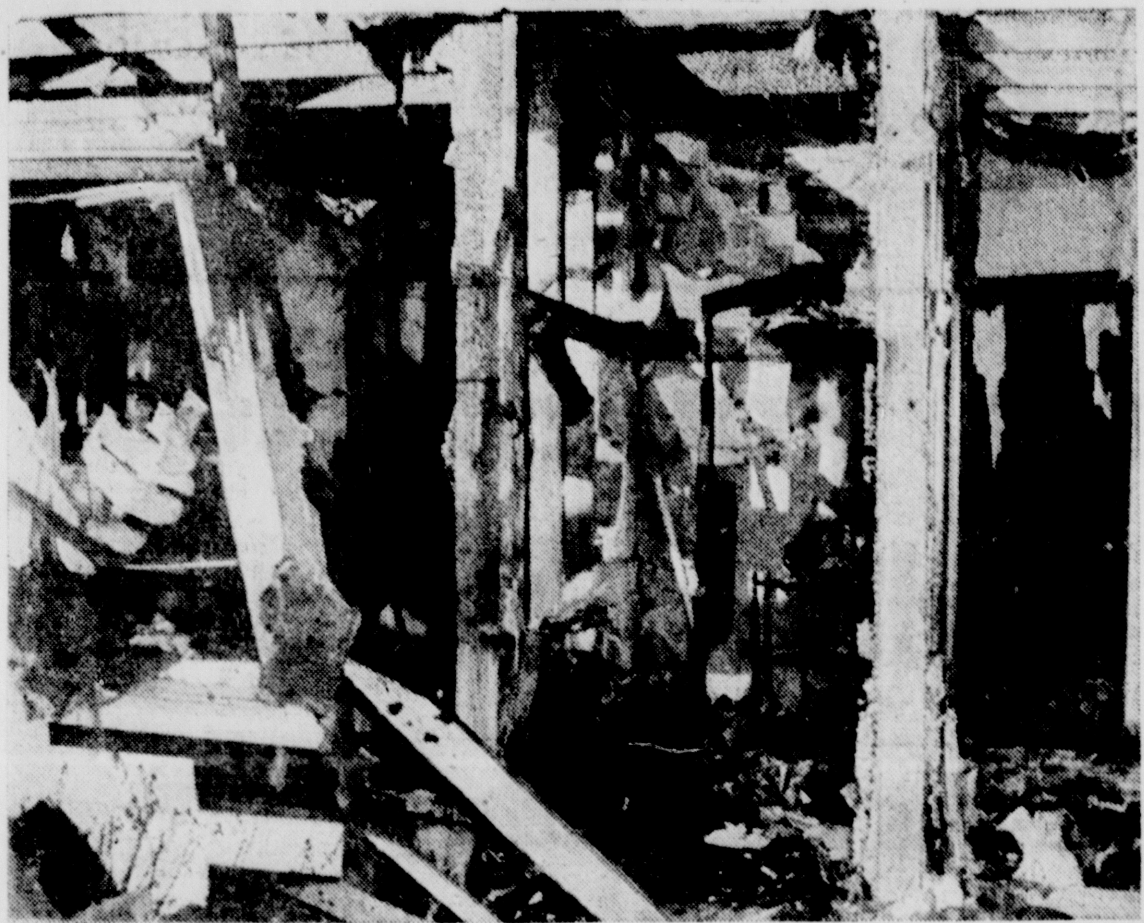

The setting was a 145-year-old mansion in downtown Helsinki where the Russian governors general lived when Finland was part of the Czarist empire. Now it is used for government entertainment.

After the speechmaking under television lights in a chande-lied yellow room, the diplomats were to have a short private session in an adjacent blue room adorned with mirrors and classical paintings.

The serious business begins Tuesday when the six-man Soviet delegation and the U.S. team of four negotiators, plus advisers and interpreters, hold their first secret meeting in a guarded room at the American Embassy.

SHAMBLES — Little remains after the shock and the blast of the explosion and resulting fire ripped through the house on E. Franklin St. Firemen were on the scene for nearly two hours.

DESTRUCTION — What was once the front of the Morgan home lies in the street and the neighbors' yards, blown there by the force of the blast. The explosion is believed to have been caused by a leak in an outside gas line, forcing the gas into air ducts. It was ignited by a pilot light on her stove.

Schools Hit By Walkout

MASON, Ohio (AP) — Mason school teachers, staying away from their classes in what was described as a "professional day" to support a demand for salary increases, met today to discuss a future course of action.

Lee Hamilton, president of the Mason Education Association, called Sunday for the teachers to skip classes today after an unsuccessful meeting with the school board in this Warren county community.

The office of David Frey, superintendent of schools, said the teachers did not report for classes today but the schools were kept open for any that might want to show up.

A spokesman in the school board office said children were seen returning to their homes. There are 2,262 pupils in Mason's three elementary schools and one high school and there are 92 teachers.

Two More Hurt In Hunting Accidents

With hunting season only three days old accidental shooting are beginning to take their toll.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff department Willis Hettinger, 73, of Adelphi, was hunting Saturday morning in the company of David Hettinger, 19, Ralph Hettinger, Steven Hettinger, and Burlin Hettinger on the Myers farm near Whisler.

David fired at a rabbit coming out of the brush and the shot struck Willis in both legs below the knees.

Willis was taken to Berger Hospital where he was admitted for treatment.

The sheriff is investigating another shooting on the Milburn Conley farm north of Darbyville

Easter Seal Society Meets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults opens a four-day convention in Columbus Wednesday to celebrate its 50th anniversary.

The society was founded in Ohio by Edgar E. Allen of Elyria after a streetcar accident in 1907 claimed the life of his son and demonstrated the lack of facilities to treat cripples.

A commemorative U.S. postage stamp will be issued by Post Office officials in honor of the organization.

Monday morning. Deputy Bob Hoover reported Jerry Cathel was hunting with his uncle Floyd Cathel.

The uncle fired at a rabbit, the shot ricocheted and struck Jerry in the foot. He was treated at Berger Hospital.

AS THE STORY GOES . . .

There was an old man who was told by a clergyman about the existence of God and His promise of heaven. To which the old man simply shook his head and said, "Prove it."

Other clergymen, as well as many friends, told him again and again of their belief in a power greater than any on earth. And, again and again, the old man simply shook his head and said, "Prove it."

Finally, the old man passed away. And, sure enough, he found himself at the gates of heaven. Overjoyed, he told St. Peter: "I never went to church and I would sometimes scoff at people who did, but, deep down, I always believed in God and a hereafter."

To which St. Peter simply shook his head and said, "Prove it."

Thug Loots Vatican Shop

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A cat burglar hid in the cupola of St. Peter's Basilica Sunday night, looted a souvenir and jewelry shop on the cathedral's roof and escaped through a side door early today.

The Vatican said he got away with $8,000 to $9,600 in gold and religious objects and cash. A small part of the loot was money, said the Vatican press spokesman, Msgr. Fausto Valaine, adding that none of the Vatican treasures were missing.

Italian police were called into the investigation of the burglary, which was discovered after a gendarme found a door of the basilica open at 6 a.m. It was a side door known as the Door of the Dead.

Vatican sources said the thief apparently entered the church with the Sunday crowds and hid on scaffolding inside the cupola, which is being restored. After the cathedral closed for the night, he presumably went through the door leading out to the roof and went to the shop at the base of the dome.

After the theft, he apparently came down an interior stairway, found a set of keys and let himself out through the door.

3 Boys Damage School Heavily

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials at Heberle school sifted today through debris to determine the amount of damage inflicted by three boys ages 8, 9 and 10, over the weekend.

Police said every room in the building was paint-spattered and windows were broken. Heavy damage was reported in the kitchen area and two offices were ransacked and battered.

Deaths And Funerals

MR. CARL C. COE

Mrs. Carl C. Coe, 67, Route 6, Lancaster, died 9:20 p.m. Saturday at his home.

Born Oct. 20, 1902 in Athens County, he was the son of Samuel and Winnie Ticker Coe.

He was a former resident of Athens and an employee of Ohio University.

He is survived by his widow, Edith E.; three sons, Harold L., Athens; Carl T., Potsdam; John E., Upper Sandusky; seven daughters, Mrs. Dana (Pauline) Smith, Arcanum; Mrs. Richmond (Luella) Six, Nelsonville; Mrs. Scott (Goldie) LaFollette, Lancaster; Mrs. Joseph (Lucille) Bentley, Grove City; Mrs. James (Maxine) Gabbard, Dayton; Mrs. Michael (Edith) Eads and Mrs. James (Connie) Taylor, both of Athens; 25 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Wade Everett and Mrs. Edward Smith, both of Athens; Mrs. Charles Wingo, Salsberry, Md.; and a brother, Basil Coe of Route 3, Athens.

His first wife, Dora, and three brothers preceded him in death.

Services will be 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Taylor Funeral Home, Amanda, with Rev. Frank Tochterman officiating. Burial will be in Amanda Twp. Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Monday.

Offenders Given Light Fines

Three weekend offenders, all Ashville residents, appeared before Judge Sterling Lamb in Municipal Court Monday.

A car hunter was cited into court by Highway Patrolman Riggelsman Sunday. Stanley M. Reinhart paid a $15 fine for shooting from the roadway.

Two Ashville women, received fines for excessive speed. Barbara L. Heasty, 31, was handed a $30 fine for speeding 80 in a 60 mile zone, and Janice M. Shute received a $15 fine for speeding 76 in a 60 mile zone.

Digestive Trouble

Men are too proud to admit illness. They mistakenly associate illness with weakness. Perhaps this is why the following case waited almost too long for his body to repair itself.

After several years of suffering with stomach trouble and intestinal disorders, this case decided to seek chiropractic help.

He described his stomach distress as "a heavy knotted feeling — acute indigestion regardless of what he'd eat." He suffered constant nausea, sharp intestinal gas pains with alternating diarrhea and constipation, excessive nervousness, shortness of breath, choking sensations, always tired, frequent headaches and hay fever.

His condition had been previously diagnosed as "chronic nervous indigestion."

"Nervous indigestion" or "Nervous Stomach" are names applied to disease produced by nerve irritation when an involvement of the nervous system is obvious — a weakened, inflamed, irritated and partially blocked nerves. "Obviously it stands to reason that the nerve irritation must be removed before the inflamed stomach can heal."

Instruments pin-pointed nerve disturbances in his spine and x-rays were used to determine the mechanical misaligned vertebrae. After the spinal correction was being made, his symptoms soon began to vanish as normal function returned.

Indigestion, headaches, dizzy spells and nausea are tell tale signs of an upset body chemistry. The chiropractic profession suggests a chiropractic examination if you feel any of these symptoms.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic by the Circleville Chiropractic Center under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

U.N. Opens Debate On Amendment

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.
(AP) — The U.N. General Assembly's annual disarmament debate, opening today, is expected to produce resolutions in favor of stopping the nuclear arms race, keeping nuclear weapons off the ocean floor and curbing gas and germ warfare.

U.S. Chief Delegate Charles
W. Yost and Soviet disarmament negotiator Aleksei A.
Koshchin were listed as the first two speakers before the assembly's main political committee.

The 126-nation committee has four items on its agenda—general disarmament, chemical and biological disarmament, suspension of underground nuclear tests, and nuclear aid for non-nuclear countries. It plans a general debate on all four items, then will consider resolutions on each of them in turn.

Documents to be studied include a treaty against planting nuclear weapons on the ocean floor, proposed by the United States and the Soviet Union during the Geneva disarmament talks; a convention against biological warfare, proposed by Britain in Geneva; a rival convention against both biological and chemical weapons, proposed by nine Communist countries; and a report from Secretary-General U Thant on the possible effects of such weapons.

The committee debate could lead to private negotiations designed to keep the ocean floor
free of nuclear arms and prohibit gas and germ warfare.

High profits and small risks have made the country the world's chief target for gold smuggling.

A stroll through Bombay's palm-lined streets gives an indication of the demand. Women who sweep streets for the equivalent of a few cents a day can be seen wearing gold earrings or other trinkets. Gold shops glitter with merchandise and the city's bullion traders do a brisk business. At Hindu weddings it is customary for the bride's father to deck his daughter with as much gold as he can afford.

Officials say smuggling operations are centered in Dubai, a Persian Gulf port 1,200 miles away and 4½ days distant by dhow, the vessel that forms the backbone of goldrunning into India's west coast.

Indian officials charged with stopping the smuggling claim their hands are tied by lack of funds and equipment and a dearth of interest from higher authorities.

Customs police, for example,
have no craft capable of matching the speed of the 350-horsepower dhows.

Early this year a British firm brought in a hovercraft for a trial, and officials said they were elated at the prospects of finally obtaining a vessel that could overtake dhows. But after the three-month test the government sent the craft back to England, explaining that the cost—about $400,000—was very high.

M. G. Abrole, chief of Indian customs, says the government is still studying whether to buy a hovercraft. He says the vessel, which travels over land or sea on a cushion of air, is limited by small fuel capacity, but "it would be one of the best interceptors with high speed and maneuverability."

"Unfortunately the gold is being transferred from the dhows to fishing boats and there are hundreds. Which one do you get?" he added.

Police Departments Use BCI 'Pool'

Language Is Relevant

In a period of history which has found the sword mightier than the pen, it is not surprising to learn that college students are shunning the study of English wherever possible because it is not "relevant." The pity of it is that the communication tool they are avoiding could be the answer to many of the problems they are uptight about.

Disorders in the streets may satisfy the radical's sense of frustration for a time, but a debate of philosophies does more to reveal the substance or lack of it of opposing points of view. There has been a relevance to language since the caveman age, but seldom has it been more important for people to be able to communicate intelligently than it is today.

"One ought to recognize that the present political chaos is connected with the decay of language, and that one can probably bring about some improvement by starting at the verbal end." These timely words, by George Orwell in an essay, were written a quarter century ago.

So it would appear men have been concerned about the ability to communicate for some time. The problem will remain as long as a large number of tomorrow's leaders retain the quaint notion that the mastery of words, and their proper usage, is not "relevant."

According To Boyle

By JEFFREY ALDERMAN (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — When Apollo 12 lands on the planet Venus in the year—say—2,000, what will man find?

The duller members of the scientific community say he will find a lifeless planet shrouded in lethal gases such as carbon monoxide.

Carbon monoxide? Yep, the very same stuff that billows from every automobile exhaust pipe here on earth.

And this coincidence has not gone unnoticed by some of the more imaginative scientists. These men theorize that Venus may once have had life but that it was done in by a gigantic case of air pollution.

Could it be, as these learned men suggest, that the noxious fumes weren't always there? Was the air there once as fresh—as it is here on earth?

Perhaps when man sets foot on Venus he will find the remains of a society which perished, with that proverbial whimper, in an atmosphere that strangled life.

Perhaps he'll see Venusian streets littered with skeletons, their bony hands either clutching at their throats or reaching hopelessly toward gas masks they carried with them.

He may see a 400-mile traffic jam that never unjammed, with dead drivers behind each steering wheel and air conditioners switched to the "on" position.

An inspection of the Venusian congress, might reveal a bill that died in committee to outlaw gas-powered vehicles in favor of electric ones. Another bill passed over might be one for control of water pollution, industrial wastes and sewage. Still another might have preserved the planet's only forest—at the end, only two scrub pines and a weeping willow.

The Venusian monetary system undoubtedly would have been based on the most precious element on the planet—oxygen. Venusian alchemists would have spent all their time trying to turn soot into either oxygen or the planet's second most precious element—water. Only the rich could have afforded the ultimate Venusian vacation—two weeks in an oxygen tent.

Perhaps an old political campaign banner saying "A chicken in every pot and a gasmask on every face," would be found.

The planet would have one garbage dump, stretching over half the Venusian surface. The other half would be a large, crowded city.

The weather forecast in the final edition of the Venus Times would read: "Temperature in inversion will raise thermometer to record 515 degrees. Four-foot sootfall expected overnight."

And will man, as he surveys the wreck that was Venus, feel contempt for the Venusians much as he does now for the departed dinosaurs?

Probably.

And perhaps another writer at another time, looking down on earth from a planet circling a distant star, will wonder about the noxious fumes obscuring earth and speculate whether there was once life here.

Doris Day

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television series have sometimes changed formats in midstream, usually with scant success. The exception may be "The Doris Day Show."

When CBS hired Miss Day for a series last season, the network had high hopes of creating another "Lucy" show. After all, Doris had enjoyed a vast movie following and was an expert comedienne.

But "The Doris Day Show" proved a disappointment, both in ratings and critical response. The fault seemed to lie in the format, which had Doris down on the farm with her father and two sons. That wasn't the kind of situation that her fans expected.

For the second season, CBS hired a new production team, comedy veterans Jack Elinson and Norman Paul. They kept her residence on the farm but put her to work in the office of a San Francisco magazine.

"This gives us a much more sophisticated approach," commented Elinson. "Last year, there wasn't enough for Doris to do. After all, how much can be done on a farm? She called herself, 'Doris Day, the All-American Milkmaid!'"

"She is much more involved this season," added Paul. "Last year, perhaps because of the death of her husband (Marty Melcher), they tried to spare her. Many of the segments were about her father or the boys, and she was just an observer. She complained, 'They'd go off on picnics in the script, but nobody invited me to go along! I'd love to have gone with them!'"

Doris herself seems delighted with the change. "There just wasn't enough for me to do on the farm; how many times can you collect eggs?" she remarked.

The results appear to be reflected in the ratings: "The Doris Day Show" has been climbing steadily. Its position has also been aided by the switch from Tuesday to Monday night, where it resides between "Mayberry RFD" and Carol Burnett.

"But we've already been preempted twice this season," Doris said. "That makes it tough. Last season we were preempted six times—six times! They tell me that a new show can't survive if it is preempted four times during a season. So it's a wonder that we made it through."

Is there a movie in her future?

"I suppose I could do one," she answered. "We finish the season in January, and we won't have to start shooting again until May. If a picture came along that was different and exciting, I might do it. Otherwise, I'm perfectly content to stick with TV."

Try and Stop Me

A BILLING CLERK had a harrowing tale to tell the analyst to whom he had been recommended. It seems he woke up regularly in the middle of the night hearing voices.

The star of young Gene Shalit, humorist first, and respected book and movie reviewer second, is rising rapidly in the literary skies. He's been going to movies, he admits, ever since he saw Tarzan, "the original swinger," and sometimes manages to survive three full-length features in a single evening. When he doesn't enjoy a picture, he isn't exactly ambiguous about it. He dismissed one ill-starred film by saying it had the same relation to movies as three feet had to pole vaulting. But he'll resort to any trick to keep attending them—"at a guile a minute," to quote one of his more unfortunate puns. "I'd even pay to see them," he admits, "though lately I've had to review a few I would have gladly paid to get out of."

Sign outside a Beverly Hills church: "Approved for general audiences."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can mild X-rays be used to remove unwanted hair on the face? My 16-year-old daughter has been told that this is possible. Can you tell me where it is available?

Mrs. D. J. S., Texas

Dear Mrs. S.: Let me immediately tell you that there is no such thing as a mild X-ray treatment for anything and particularly for the condition described. All X-rays are given in calculated, safe doses based on its purpose and the judgment of the doctor. Only then is X-ray treatment used in any form.

The use of X-rays for the removal of unwanted hair is exceedingly dangerous. The condition of excessive hair growth is known as hirsutism and may be caused by a great many basic physical conditions. Hormone imbalance and deficiencies can now be studied with a great degree of accuracy. Replacement may be beneficial in preventing the progress of hirsutism and even reverse it.

At the beginning of the century, X-rays were used by many who had no knowledge of the danger. The result was that damage to the skin, at first unnoticed, was severe and even responsible for skin cancer after 25 years.

Your daughter, in her anxiety to remove unwanted hair, must not be tempted by such dangerous treatment. Dermatologists or skin specialists use X-rays for many conditions. They are highly trained in this use and therefore dangers are avoided. Under no circumstances should your daughter become involved in such treatment without positive permission from your own doctor and a specialist.

My young son is enamored of ball players. He asked me today if there are any special foods that make them strong and healthy. These days a father's information must be supplemented by another opinion if it is to be worth anything to a growing son.

Mr. C. M., Indiana

Dear Mr. M.: I hope it brings you a moderate amount of relief to know that the stamp of authority, even in my family, came from the parents of my daughter's friends during her early period of growth. It is rewarding to know that before long they come back to the "fold," and our judgment and help becomes a basis for a great relationship.

I have always felt that great athletes must not survive on adulation. They owe the youth of America a very great responsibility in their social attitudes and in their good conduct on and off the playing field. They can play a most significant role in the prevention of delinquency and all the problems associated with it.

A good nutritive diet supplemented with vitamins, and plenty of sleep is the essence of good body building. Ball players, especially, must follow these rules in their training program.

Coaches in the grade and high schools have an excellent knowledge of nutrition and encourage their players to eat a well-balanced energy-giving diet with emphasis on meat, fish, vegetables, cereals, fruit and milk. I am certain that the nutritive diet served in your home is an excellent background for the future Olympic champ.

Today, you may be surprised to learn, is the 100th anniversary of the opening of the Suez Canal to shipping. Another anniversary, a far less happy one, is that June 6, 1969 marked the second anniversary of the closing of the canal to all shipping.

The Canal closing came during the Six-Day Israeli-Arab War. The closing happened 29 months ago but the memory lingers on — the Canal's still closed!

Now that so many political office seekers do so much politicking and speech making on TV everybody's living room has become a sort of a whistlestop!

How To Fight The Left

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Last year, if you wanted to know what the Yippie Left was about to perpetrate in the streets of Chicago or inside a Harvard Administration building, the soundest prophet around was a young man named Williamson Good. At the Republican convention in Miami Beach he gave me an accurate rundown of what Dave Dellinger, Jerry Rubin and the rest of the Yippie-SDS coalition were going to do to try to disrupt the Democratic convention. Williamson got his information from the horse's mouth, by dressing in hippie garb and attending the planning sessions of the New Left strategists.

After Richard Nixon's election, Mr. Good disappeared from his haunts in the East. New York's loss, however, has been Los Angeles's gain. And, with Governor Ronald Reagan of California having his troubles with the Leftist penetration of his State university system, the West Coast can surely use Mr. Good's insight.

He came through the other day when I asked him, by telephone, for some information about Father Blase Bonpane, a defrocked priest who was kicked out of Guatemala for alleged revolutionary activity. This Bonpane is a curious character; he claims to be a man of "peace," but he calls the U.S. "the rapist of the world," and, though he says he doesn't advocate violence, he nonetheless feels that "armed guerrillas, in our period of history, will be the solution for Guatemala."

Like Angela Davis, who was recently reinstated by a Superior Court judge to a teaching post at the University of California at Los Angeles after being fired by the Board of Regents for being a Communist Party member, Father Bonpane is currently on the UCLA faculty. Last summer he was one of the speakers at the demonstration in front of President Nixon's San Clemente (Calif.) August White House, where he warned the President had "better stop the war in Vietnam or we will stop the United States."

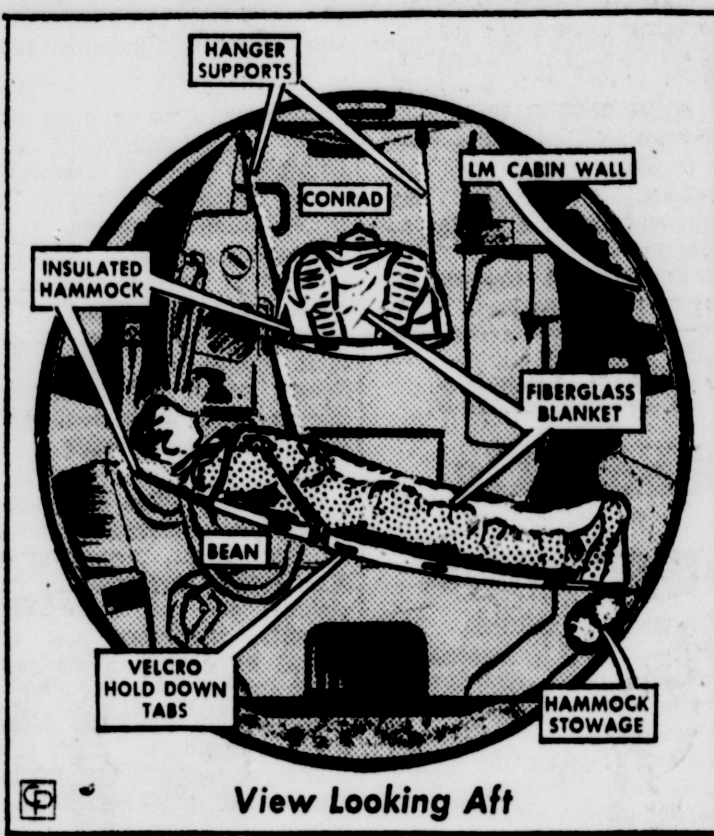

Bonpane keeps on the alkaline side of those who make membership in the Communist Party a cause for academic expulsion by proclaiming that he is an "eclectic" radical, picking his intellectual background from Marx, Engels, Lenin, Mao, Che Guevara (he calls him Santo Che) — and Abraham Lincoln. (It is the Lincoln touch that makes him respectable.)

Williamson Good went to California to teach a course called "Argumentation for Free Enterprise" for the Coast and Southern Federal Savings and Loan Association, a capitalist enterprise that believes in actively combatting the spread of Marxist economic ideas. Coast and Southern Federal's program has interesting angles: the students are paid $10 each for attending a seminar, and $15 more for making speeches around the State. Joe Crail, the president of Coast and Southern Federal, justifies his foray into education to his business associates by citing an enlightening statistic: the free enterprise teaching program has accounted for nineteen per cent of his new accounts at an expense of less than 6.6 per cent of the advertising budget.

There are larger dividends from the venture, however. In October Mr. Good learned that Father Bonpane was about to appear as a speaker at a showing of Leftist Newsreels ("Garbage," "The Columbia Revolt," "Chicago Convention Challenge") at the University of California at Irvine. Mr. Good and seven of his students put on hippie clothes and scattered out in Father Bonpane's audience. The defrocked priest began by stressing the point that he wanted a dialogue rather than a monologue. But a monologue it was. When Good remarked from the audience that he, even as Father Bonpane, was an "eclectic," he got momentary recognition. But Bonpane was startled when Mr. Good went on to say that "one thing disturbs me. On at least two occasions I have seen you stifle dissent, and I am worried that, comes the revolution, with you in power, you might just stifle my eclecticism. What guarantees do I have that you wouldn't do that, as you have done to two others this afternoon?"

Bonpane wouldn't answer and at this point thirty students got up and followed Mr. Good and his seven students out of the room in protest. Said a Black Panther to Williamson Good as he walked up the stairs, "Comes the Revolution, you're going to be the first to go, baby." Said Mr. Good, "Ain't likely, baby."

The Left can be combatted on the campus. But it takes a little gumption to do it.

Dear Editor:
The flag of the United States belongs to every patriotic American. It seems extremely unfair and presumptuous that a minority group such as the American Legion (or any other group for that matter) should use it as a lobbying tool to show their support for a political policy.

I for one am opposed to the policy which they support, and as a patriotic American, I find it revolting that they should "wave the flag" for such a purpose.

Please use another symbol in the future. I would like to continue to regard the flag as every American's flag. Don't alienate any patriotic American from revering his flag.

Pentagon Cuts C5A Order Due To Skyrocketing Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon is slashing proposed production of the controversial C5A from 120 to 81 airplanes because of spiraling cost increases amounting to $149 million in the last four months alone.

What the 81 planes will cost eventually is uncertain since the Air Force has abstained from any new estimate. But the price of the original 120-plane goal had reached nearly $3.3 billion.

The C5A, the world's largest plane, originally was conceived by the Pentagon as a key to scaling down American manpower commitments around the world.

The Pentagon expected to draw praise from such critics as Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., but instead the senator often has cited the C5A program as a prime example of what he calls exorbitant defense spending.

Air Force estimates for the 120-plane buy have risen from 1964's estimate of $3.2 billion to the latest $5.249 billion figure. The Air Force says a change in design plus sharp inflationary pressures are responsible for the increase.

The Air Force only a few days ago fired a financial expert, A. E. Fitzgerald, who focused attention on the $2 billion cost increase last year in testimony before Congress.

"The final cost," the Air Force said, "will in all probability be subject to interpretation of the contract provisions and may require adjudication in the courts."

Secretary of the Air Force Robert Seamans last July served notice to Lockheed that it wanted a major revision in the C5A contract.

Seamans, while praising the C5A as a good plane, said the contract posed various "ambiguities and deficiencies."

Among these was a repricing clause under which Lockheed could recoup certain losses by pinning extra expenses on the initial 58-plane production run and obtaining higher profit margins on later production.

Lockheed, denying it was being blessed with huge profits, has estimated that it could lose $285 million on the C5A contract.

Prince Charles Notes His 21st Birthday

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles folded up his 21st birthday party at Buckingham Palace at 3:30 a.m. Saturday, grabbed a few hours' sleep and flew to the country home of a pretty debutante whose company he has been keeping.

Dow Loses Contract To Make Napalm

MIDLAND, Mich. (AP) — Dow Chemical Co., whose board chairman had pledged to continue making napalm for use in Vietnam despite widespread protests against this company, has lost its contract to produce the weapon for the government.

A spokesman for the Midland-based firm said Friday Dow's contract to produce the jelled gasoline incendiary expired last May. Dow bid for renewal of the contract, he said, but the award went to American Electric Co. of La Mirada, Calif., a Los Angeles suburb.

Country Home Scene For Wedding Rites

MRS. FREDERICK SMITH

A country farm home was the setting for the marriage ceremony uniting Miss Marlene Kay Stoneburner and Airman Frederick D. Smith.

The Rev. George I. Howdyshell performed the double ring ceremony 7 p.m. Tuesday, November 4 for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Stoneburner, Lancaster, and the son of Mrs. Lois L. Disborough of Richmond, Ind.

The bride selected for her wedding a two-piece street length suit of pink and white lace with a short pink veil. Pink accessories completed her costume. Mrs. Patrick Herhalt, a friend of the bride and groom, and Mrs. Robert L. (Jeanette) Rawlins, sister of the bride, served as attendants for the couple. Mrs. Herhalt was attired in a white and gold knit dress with black accessories. Mrs. Rawlins of Circleville, was attired in a gold knit dress, also with black accessories. Both attendants wore necklaces, gifts from the bride.

A surprise reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mrs. Herhalt, Canal Winchester. Centering the candlelight table was a two tiered cake encircled with yellow and white flowers. Mrs. Gerald Taufer, Mrs. Gerald Sena, Mrs. Herhalt and Mrs. Rawlins were hostesses.

The new Mrs. Smith is a 1966 graduate of Lancaster High School and is presently employed by the Anchor Hocking Glass Corp.

Mr. Smith, graduated from Havelock High School, Havelock, N. C., in 1964. He served four years with the U. S. Marine Corps, one and a half years with the Marine Reserves and is now planning to finish his military career in the U. S. Air Force. In approximately three months, he will leave for a tour of duty on the Island of Guam.

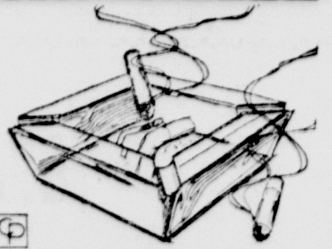

The new Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at 223 Baldwin Ave., in Lancaster.

Guild 19 Will Hold Guest Night

Berger Hospital Guild 19 will meet in the home of Mrs. Ned Young, 304 E. Mound St., 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Food products are to be brought for the basket to be raffled off at the bazaar. All funds for tickets sold for the money tree are to be turned in. Members may bring guests to the meeting.

Annual Guest Meeting Held By BPW Club

The Annual Guest Meeting of Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club was held Thursday at The Historical Society Building. In charge of arrangements was the membership committee, Etha Mae Wolford, chairman; Mary Alice Greenwood, and Mary Wolfe.

Joann Brink presided during the business meeting. The opening features were recognition of the American Flag and the club collect.

Guests introduced and welcomed were Charlotte Hill, Arlene Boothe, Donna Crabbe, Jean West, and Sally Perkins. Mary Ann Willoughby was given official recognition as a new member.

Mrs. Greenwood introduced members of "Cherished Folk" a new musical group from Circleville High School. Eileen England, Sandy Greene, Dale Hukill, Carol Neuding, Craig

Thanksgiving Theme For Circle Meeting

Circle 1 of the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church met Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. Woodrow Carley, 129 Hayward Ave.

Mrs. Eugene Siniff, leader, opened the business meeting by reading Scripture verses concerning Thanksgiving. Mrs. Frank Hawkes presented prayer.

The circle plans to have a bake sale Dec. 13, at the Circleville Appliance Store on W. Main St., with cookies and candy as specialties. Another project will be to gather stamps for handicapped people and make pads and house slippers for residents of Otterbein Home, a church home near Lebanon.

Mrs. S. Hawkes, program leader, used as her theme "Are We Thankful?" Two readings "The World Is Mine" was read by Miss Jessie Cummings and "Prayer Answered" by Mrs. Siniff. Mrs. Carley and Miss Phyllis Hawkes sang "The Light of the World Is Jesus."

During collection of the Thank Offering, members expressed their thanksgiving for the blessings of the past year. Miss Cummings closed the meeting with prayer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carley and Miss Hawkes.

The December meeting will be a combined meeting of all four circles and the United Methodist Men.

Pickaway Social Club Will Meet Thursday

Pickaway Social Club will meet from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Thursday in the basement of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Club, N. Court St.

Members are requested to bring a sack lunch. Tea and coffee will be furnished.

Dresbach, Karen Reed, and Mary Housh. They presented five selections.

Mrs. Wolford reviewed the objectives of the Business and Professional Women's Federation which was founded in 1919 and explained how programs were implemented on four major areas, personal development, civic participation, world affairs and legislation. Special mention was given the BPW theme for this 50th year, "Build, Plan, Work."

The club program chairman, Harriet Kaylor, told of recent local projects and accomplishments of the club. Guest speaker was Debbie Lowe, a delegate to the 23rd Buckeye Girl's State where she held the office of tax commissioner. Miss Lowe expressed appreciation to the club for making the experience possible. She gave highlights of the total program which provided new friends and knowledge of and appreciation for government policies and procedures.

Mary Kennedy, chairman of the finance committee, elaborated on details of the travel project. Miss Lowe was asked to draw for the name of the one for which a gift round-trip to New York would be arranged. The winner was Robert Moon, plant controller of Container Corp. of America.

Miss Brink read an invitation from Pickaway County Farm Bureau to the Nov. 17 Rural-Urban Luncheon at the 4-H and Grange building and announced an executive board meeting for Wednesday, Nov. 19 at Knight Travel Headquarters.

Dr. Nancy Lu Conrad is chairman for the annual Christmas Party and Club Anniversary scheduled for December 11. During the fellowship hour, refreshments were served from a table decorated in a fall theme.

Woman Killed; Blaze Suspicious

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arson investigators sought today the cause of a $35,000 fire Sunday at the fashionable Amberley House Apartments which killed the former wife of a prominent Cincinnati attorney, injured two persons and routed 60 people from the building.

Dead was Betty Gilday, 44, who was divorced six months ago from attorney Bernard J. Gilday Jr.

Mrs. Gilday's body was found in the living room of her fifth floor apartment, where the fire broke out, firemen said.

Recover Bodies From Reservoir

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Bodies of two of the four persons lost in a boating mishap on Mosquito Reservoir have been recovered.

Further dragging operations were scheduled today in the search for the bodies of Frank Pierson Jr., 31, of Broadway Heights, and Bernard Podgorski, 28, of Maple Heights.

Trumbull County sheriff's deputies said draggers found the bodies Sunday of Gloria Gazy, 23, of Garfield Heights, and Martin Kaminsky, 32, of Northfield.

The four reportedly were on a hunting trip Saturday when their boat capsized.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Ignore The Rumor About Your Baby

DEAR ABBY: An ugly rumor has been in circulation all over town about my 16-year-old daughter, and I want to know what can be done to combat it. Here are the facts: Late last May, the day after school recessed, the children and I went to Texas to spend our summer vacation. (My parents have a 60-acre ranch there.) I was in my sixth month of pregnancy at the time but very few knew it because I hardly showed. My oldest girl is 16, and I have three younger children, 14, 12, and 11.

Well, I had the baby ahead of schedule in Texas, and we all returned home with the new baby about a week before school resumed.

Now it's all over town that it isn't MINE Abby, my daughter is a "nice" girl and we can't imagine how this rotten lie ever got started! She has heard it from her friends at school, and I have heard it from many of my friends and neighbors. How can a person kill such a rumor or prove it false—short of putting an ad in the newspaper?

TALKED ABOUT
DEAR TALKED: One can't. And one shouldn't try. The people who KNOW you and your daughter won't believe it. And those who would spread such a vicious rumor don't count. And the less said about it the better.

DEAR ABBY: I received two invitations this week, one to a 50th wedding celebration and another to a birthday party. Both of these invitations said, "NO GIFTS, PLEASE." This is the first time I ever saw that on an invitation and am wondering what I should do about it. I would hate to come empty-handed if others come with a gift. I'll be looking for your answer.

NO CHEAPSKATE
DEAR NO: If the invitation requests "NO GIFTS"—bring no gift. (A suggestion: Send a contribution to charity in the name of your host or hostess.) Guests who come with a pretty package in hand when the invitation says "no gifts" should feel embarrassed, not the empty-handed ones.

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to "Hank's Wife" struck me as being somewhat sup'd. (Hank hated to get up in the morning so he took the night shift.) You said Hank's reason for working nights was childish, and he should get on a more "civilized" shift.

I have worked the night shift for 18 years and I assure you I am as "civilized" as anyone who works the day shift. I find better working conditions on the night shift and the hours suit me fine, so if the night shift is "uncivilized," let us close the hospitals at 4 p.m., and maybe our boys should quit fighting for us at 4 p.m., and let's not run our power plants after the hour of "civilization."

I think you are a smart aleck for not appreciating those night shift workers who provide you not only the luxuries, but also the necessities of life. Yet, you criticized Hank when an ungrateful wife should have been criticized.

If you can admit you're wrong, why not print this and give a word of praise to those of us who prefer to work nights in this "uncivilized" world.

IVAN IN HAMILTON, O.
DEAR IVAN: All right, I'm wrong.

CONFIDENTIAL TO
"HUNGRY FOR LOVE": A woman likes and indeed "needs" to be told that she is loved. And I will let you in on another not-so-well kept secret. So does a man. So, if you want to be loved, then love!

CORNELL TRUSTEE—Ezra Cornell, great-great-grandson of the Ezra Cornell who founded Cornell University 104 years ago, is automatically a member of the university's Board of Trustees as of Nov. 17, his 21st birthday. A senior, he is shown going from class to class in Ithaca, N.Y. The Cornell charter places him on the board as the oldest lineal male descendant of the founder—the first student trustee in Cornell's history.

Gertrude Donahy Runs For Treasurer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gertrude W. Donahy of Columbus, widow of former Lt. Gov. John W. Donahy, took out petitions Friday to run for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer.

Mrs. Donahy, whose candidacy was endorsed in September by the Federated Democratic Women's Clubs of Ohio, is a staff assistant for U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young. She said some of Young's supporters have offered their help in her primary campaign.

Kentucky Railroads Need More Money

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Railroad Commission, sometimes considered a quaint relic of the past, says it's alive and in dire need of more money.

It asked Gov. Louie B. Nunn for an extra $45,000 for the next year or so to help rule on what it called an increase in railroad rate adjustment requests.

Nationwide Hikes Auto Insurance

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Blaming increased claims costs, Nationwide Mutual Insurance Co. announced Friday it plans to hike its Ohio auto insurance rates.

The new rates, which Nationwide will file with the Ohio Department of Insurance Monday, provide for a statewide average increase of slightly over 14 per cent, or $8.50 in a six-month period, for a full-coverage policy.

Britain's Doctors Are 'Foreigners'

LONDON (AP) — Almost half of the doctors training in British hospitals are from overseas, according to a Government report.

The Digest of Health Statistics said the proportion has risen from 49 per cent in 1964 to 48 per cent in 1969. The main increase was in the Senior House Officer grade which rose from 55 to 66 per cent.

Gas Service Extended To Commercial

Work has just begun on a $64,000 Columbia Gas of Ohio, Inc., pipeline construction project that will extend natural gas service to residents of Commercial Point.

The community, located about 15 miles north of Circleville will be served out of the company's Circleville office.

C. R. Baker, Circleville manager for the gas company, said a "get-acquainted" meeting would be held 7 p.m. tonight at Scioto Elementary School in Commercial Point and that all residents of the area are invited to attend.

Baker said that gas company personnel would be on hand at this meeting to answer questions about natural gas service and to acquaint residents with the many uses of gas.

About 60 residents of the area already have requested natural gas service, Baker said. Other residents may make arrangements to have gas service extended to their homes at the meeting Monday, by visiting the gas company's Circleville office, 129 N. Court St., or by telephoning 474-3188.

The pipeline extension project will involve construction of almost four miles of new pipeline — up to three inches in diameter. The line will be laid north along Walker Road from existing gas company facilities located near the intersection of Walker and Thompson Roads to State Route 762 and west along Route 762 to Commercial Point.

Ohio Pipeline Construction Co., Newark, is constructing the new line for Columbia Gas of Ohio. Work is expected to be completed by mid-December. Traffic will be maintained during construction, Baker said.

Say Americans Killed 460 Viet Civilians In Attack

SAIGON (AP) — The province chief of Quang Ngai province said today that villagers told him 460 Vietnamese civilians were killed during an American military operation in March, 1968, but he said he had no firm evidence they were executed by American troops.

Two soldiers, a lieutenant and a staff sergeant, have been arrested in connection with the alleged massacre on March 16, 1968, at Song My village, six miles northeast of Quang Ngai city.

Newsweek magazine and the New York Times reported Sunday, however, that eyewitnesses said 50 or more soldiers were involved. They said the villagers were herded together, their homes destroyed, and then they were mowed down by GI gunmen.

The province chief, Col. Ton

That Khien, said in a telephone interview that three months after the operation by the U.S. American Division, villagers "cried that the Americans killed them when they went through the village and made contact with the Viet Cong and they opened fire."

Asked if he believed the villagers were telling the truth, he said: "I think there is some truth but there is also an extension of it. Maybe they exaggerate because of Viet Cong propaganda, because it is a Viet Cong hamlet and the people have been trained by the Communists. The people are guided by the Viet Cong."

Khien said American and Vietnamese investigators from Saigon visited his area about a year ago and discussed the incident. He said the investigators "could not go into the hamlet because it was still in Viet Cong control."

Newsweek said the case of the lieutenant accused of murdering noncombatants "was only one of a string of related incidents in which a total of 567 South Vietnamese in three separate hamlets were slain."

"According to eyewitnesses in Quang Ngai, 40 to 50 American soldiers were implicated in the killings," Newsweek said, identifying the witnesses as civilians who escaped death by hiding beneath piles of corpses.

The New York Times, in today's editions, carried a dispatch from Troung An, South Vietnam, relating the same tale and reporting about 60 soldiers implicated.

A Defense Department spokesman in Washington said there would be no comment on the Newsweek report.

The U.S. Command in Saigon, in a report issued March 16, 1968, said two companies of the soldiers at a coastal village six miles northeast of Quang Ngai City.

President Nixon Attends Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has become the first incumbent president to take in a regular season National Football League game.

The President stayed through the end of the contest Sunday as the Dallas Cowboys whipped the Washington Redskins 41-28. He occasionally rose to his feet on exciting plays.

With the President were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wilkinson, Wilkinson is a former coach of the University of Oklahoma grid squad.

Juror Seated Anyway

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — A potential jurist asked Judge George Bertram to excuse him from serving because he couldn't hear well out of one ear.

"The request denied," said Bertram. "You don't need but one good ear. This is a grand jury and it will be hearing just one side of the case anyway."

Doctor O.K.'s This Hemorrhoid Treatment For N.J. Couple's Son

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Wharton, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jeffers report: "Our son suffered from hemorrhoids. I asked the doctor about Preparation H and he gave us the O.K. Our son is now fine, thanks to Preparation H."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced. There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Why Do 96.5% of Our Customers Heat Their Homes with GAS?

Two reasons, really — two simple statements of fact. Gas Heats Best. Gas Heat Costs Less.

Consider the benefits to be enjoyed with Gas heat. Constant, even home temperatures. Air filtered to remove dust and pollen. Fresh air circulation.

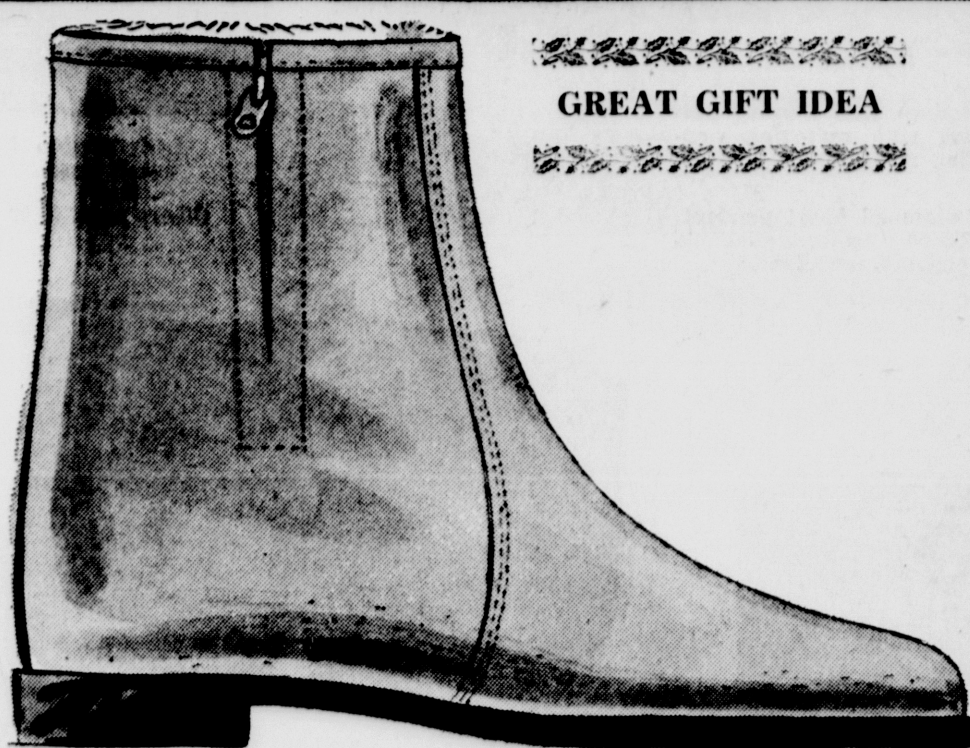

Gas heat is economical, too. It costs less than 1/2 as much as electric heat — and doesn't require the addition of excessive insulation.

No heat is cleaner than Gas... none more dependable. And with forced air Gas heating, a homeowner has half of a Gas total comfort system for heating and cooling.

So, if you're considering a heating system for a home, apartment or office building, or any other type installation, follow the lead of the vast majority of our customers — heat with thrifty, carefree, comfortable Gas. And for further information and assistance, call your local Gas Company office.

Conrad Seeks Pinpoint Landing On Moon

By BILL STOCKTON
AP Science Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 12 commander Charles Conrad's parking lot on the Ocean of Storms is 400 feet wide. On the moon, that's a pinpoint.

If Conrad and Alan L. Bean can ride their lunar lander Intrepid to this site, they will assure future safe landings in rugged moon terrain where a small error could ruin the mission.

Just landing Apollo 11 safely in July was good enough. But geologists want future missions to go to the more interesting, but much rougher, lunar highlands.

Future astronauts and guidance systems must bring each lunar module to a precise landing or else abort the mission to avoid damage to the spacecraft.

Apollo 11 missed its mark by almost four miles. Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. accomplished a safe landing of their craft, Eagle, after assuming manual control and steering away from a rock-filled crater.

After studying Apollo 11 data, engineers said a combination of factors, when added together, caused the down-range landing. Apollo 12's descent and landing procedures have been modified to eliminate the factors.

A point about 1,000 feet from Surveyor 3, which landed April 19, 1967, was the original target for Intrepid, but space officials announced last week the site had been changed to the Surveyor 3 location to give Conrad a better view of the landing area during the final seconds of descent.

Conrad hopes to park Intrepid in a smooth, level spot near the unmanned spacecraft, which is squatting on the side of a 600-foot wide crater.

The Apollo 12 landing site is

Howard Snook Is President Of Toastmasters

Howard Snook was elected president of the Circleville Toastmasters Club during the annual election of officers Thursday at the L-K Restaurant.

Other officers are Rusty Vaughn, educational vice president; Dick Theis, administrative vice president; Don Stevenson, secretary; Bill McKinney, treasurer; Ray Bales, sergeant at arms.

The impromptu speech portion of the meeting was won by Dick Petz. Don Stevenson was selected as winner of the formal speech segment.

Notes of importance to local Toastmasters included revision of the meeting schedule for the remainder of the year. There will be no second meeting in November and the December meetings will be on the first and third Thursdays.

Also of interest is the district 40 Fall Convention to be held Nov. 22 in Columbus. An interesting event at the convention will be the district humorous speech contest.

farther west than Tranquility Base, which means the spacecraft will be in contact with earth longer before entering the final critical moments of descent. Mission Control will have time to send up the latest information about Intrepid's exact position for Conrad and Bean to punch into the guidance computer.

Ohio Granges Win Awards At Convention

Just as Pickaway County Grangers returned from the Ohio State Grange Convention with many honors, so have Ohio entries at the National Grange Convention fared well.

Pickaway County Deputy Master Paul Dunkle learned today that the 103rd session of the National Grange, held in Daytona Beach, Fla., heard of Ohio many times.

Shoplifters Like New, Big Maxicoats

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The new style maxicoat is a great boon to shoplifters, Deputy Police Chief Joseph Rusinko says.

Rusinko told 200 merchants attending a fraud prevention clinic that police departments generally were delighted with the introduction of the miniskirt mainly because miniskirts "barely cover what they're supposed to cover, let alone hiding merchandise."

As Intrepid nears the lunar surface, the spacecraft computer will tell Conrad where to look for landmarks. When the lander reaches an altitude of 500 feet, Conrad, while watching the lunar surface, can begin guiding the spacecraft manually.

If he is satisfied with the job the computer is doing, he can allow the guidance system to land Intrepid automatically.

Because Intrepid will carry a little more fuel than Eagle and the horizontal descent velocity on this flight is slightly higher, Conrad and Bean will have a few more seconds to maneuver their craft than the crew of Eagle had.

Australian Mining Boom Is Predicted

BRISBANE (AP) — An Australian expert says this country will displace North America in 30 years as the biggest center of world exploration and mining activity.

Already, Australia is one of the world's major producers of industrial minerals, said R. L. Whitmore, professor of mining and metallurgical engineering at Queensland University.

Addressing an adult education meeting, he said: "This year the export income from minerals will be about $885 million Australian ($991 million US), roughly equalling that of wool. By mid-1970 this figure will have doubled and it will not be stopping there."

Among Australian mineral exports are lead, zinc, iron ore, coal and bauxite.

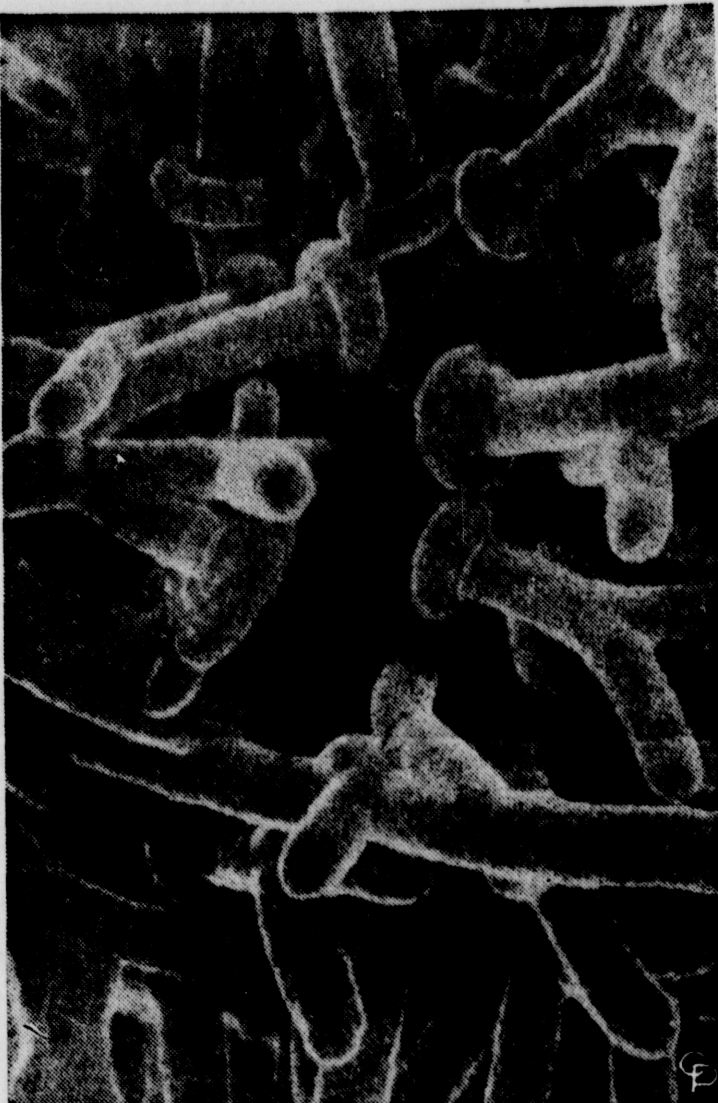

youth talent contest with her reading she gave at the Pickaway County Grange Prince and Princess Pageant. In the Couple - of - the Year Contest, Mr. and Mrs. William Dwell of Erie County received the first award and will represent the grange at many functions throughout the coming year.

Saxbe To Vote Against Haynsworth

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An aide to Sen. William B. Saxbe says the Ohio Republican will vote against confirmation of Clement E. Haynsworth as a Supreme Court justice.

The aide said Saxbe is miffed at the Nixon administration for balking at his nomination of Robert Boyd of Columbus for U.S. attorney in Ohio's southern district.

Probe Deaths In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland detectives say a 19-year-old East Side man apparently became panic-stricken and shot himself to death after seeing a woman accidentally kill herself with his gun.

The bodies of Richard Robinson and Joan Vales, 19, were found Sunday in Robinson's East 75th Street apartment.

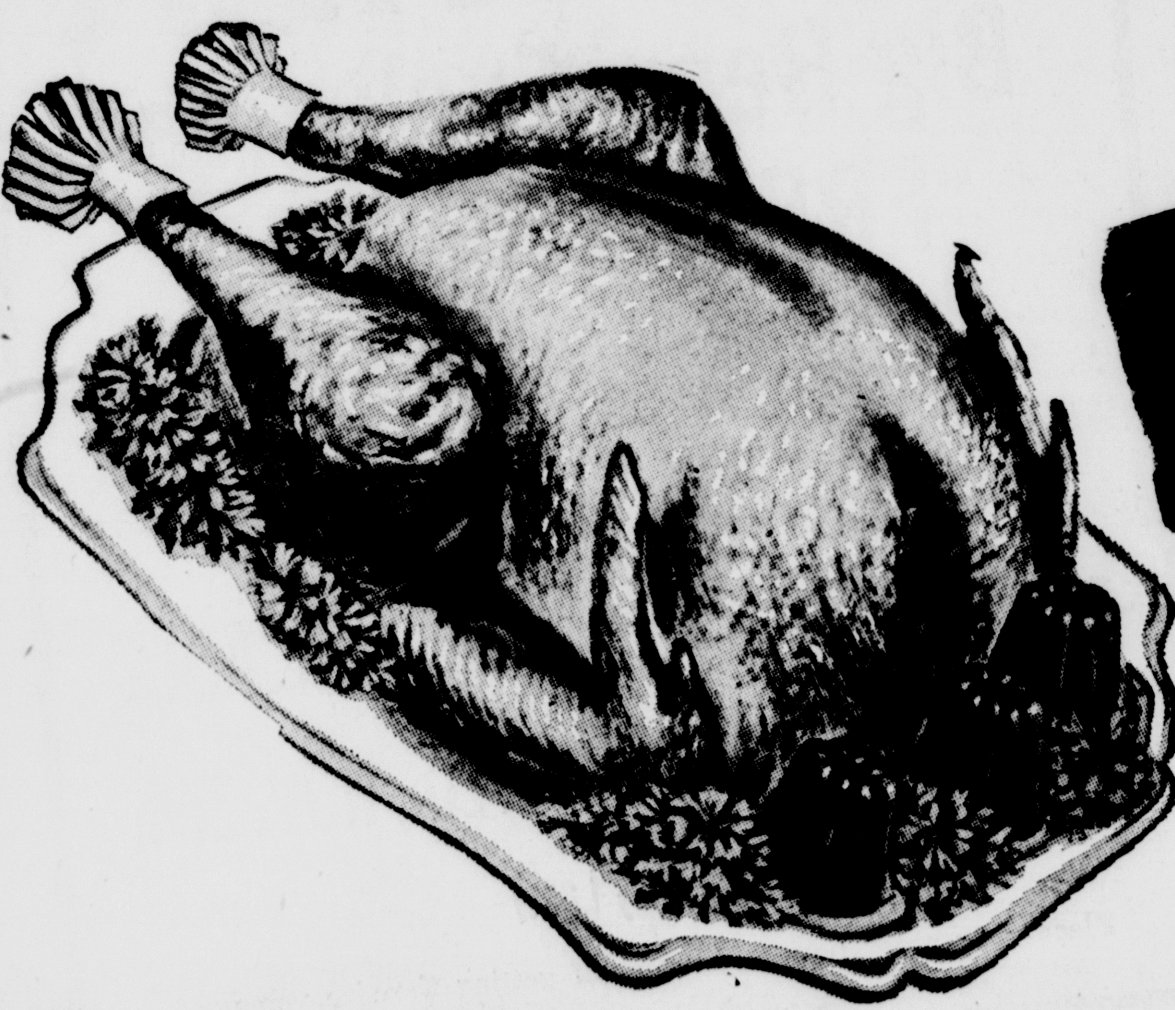

Detectives said after questioning Robinson's wife, Darlene, also 19, it appeared that Mrs. Vales died when a .22-caliber pistol discharged accidentally while she was handling the weapon. The bullet apparently struck a door latch and deflected back into the woman's chest, police said.

Detectives found Robinson on the floor nearby, killed by a bullet in the temple, and with the gun at his side.

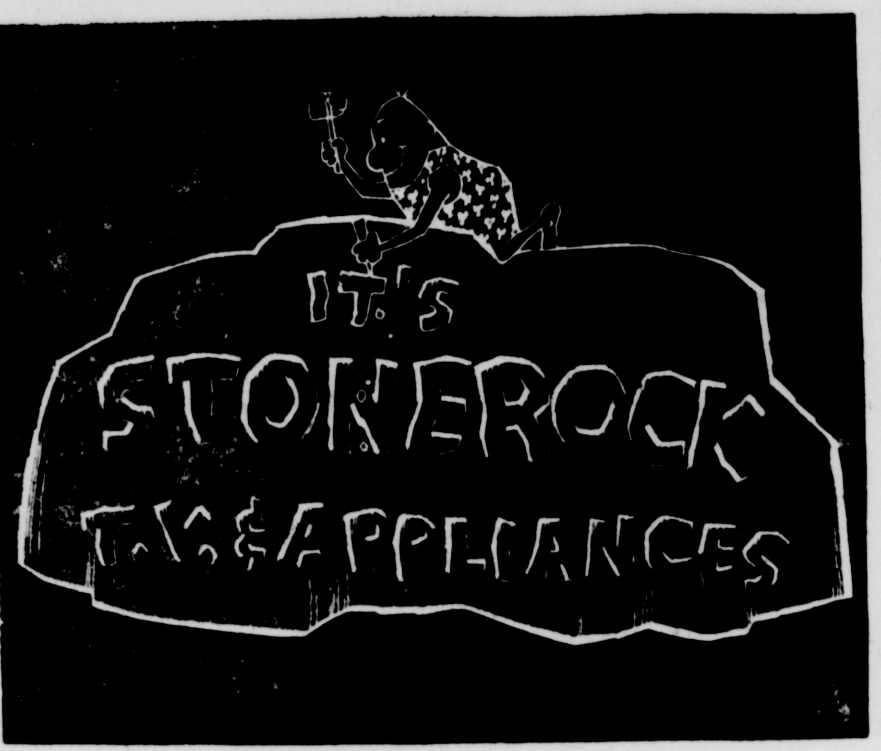

Mrs. Robinson was taken to Mount Sinai Hospital in a state of shock.

Battle action on Okinawa in 1945: U.S. Marines take aim at sniper nest in that steeple. The fighting was so fierce before it fell on June 21 that battle gains were reckoned in yards.

JAPAN-U.S. TOPIC—Here is Okinawa, America's big defense bastion in the Far East, no doubt a key topic of talks between visiting Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato and President Nixon. The island, fiercely defended by Japan in World War II, is scheduled to revert to Japan in 1971. The question is, will the U.S. be permitted to deploy nuclear weapons there in the future? U.S. investments on Okinawa reportedly run to about $240 million.

Plane Falls; Couple Hurt

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Muranko of Strongsville were injured when their small plane crashed in the front yard of a home in Strongsville Sunday.

Mrs. Muranko, 39, is the great-granddaughter of President James A. Garfield and the daughter of Edward W. Garfield, former mayor of Bratenahl. Muranko, also 39, is vice president of Manufacturers Gasket Co., of North Royalton.

Mrs. Muranko suffered fractures of both ankles, and her husband had two facial bones fractured. They were listed in fair condition Sunday night at Southwest General Hospital.

The couple, both licensed pilots, had planned to fly to Wheeling, W. Va., but police said the engine failed shortly after takeoff from Strongsville Airport, and the plane clipped a rooftop and crashed.

Police said the plane was a total loss, and they estimated damage to the home of Garrett F. Manley at more than $4,000.

Daytonian Faces Trial In Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — Michael Carver, 18, Dayton, was to go on trial here today for first-degree murder in the $1.81 robbery-slaying of a Kentucky man.

Bill Samuel, 33, South Shore, Ky., was stabbed Sept. 4 on a Portsmouth street.

Details of the settlement under which the deputies returned were not available early today. Sheriff's department employees have been critical of money being spent to remodel the county commissioners' offices and of the hiring of a county administrator last week at a salary of $15,000 a year. Campbell said deputies felt that these actions were possible because of funds made available with their pay cut.

Deputies Back On The Job

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Summit County Sheriff's deputies returned to work Sunday after calling in sick for two days in a work stoppage stemming from a pay dispute.

When the sick calls started Friday afternoon, Sheriff Robert Campbell said the deputies, about 80 on each of three shifts, were angered because their annual salaries were not restored Friday after having them cut 10 per cent last April.

At Campbell's insistence, half of the pay cut was restored in August and department personnel had expected the remaining five per cent to be restored in Friday's pay check.

Views on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Last week it was an entire evening of variety and comedy specials. This week NBC will offer two original dramas back to back on Friday night.

It's all part of the network's new scheduling gimmick which it calls "Multi-Special Nights." A 90-minute "Hall of Fame" suspense tale, "The File on Devlin," will be followed by an hour-long "On Stage" production of "Mirror, Mirror, Off the Wall."

In past seasons, a "Hall of Fame" or an "On Stage" production was set in the network schedule like a rare jewel. They are the prized and prestigious dramatic series of NBC, never before put together in one economy-sized package. Even more unusual, both productions are on the light side.

George Schafer, who produced and directed many of the old "Hall of Fame" shows produced and directed "The File on Devlin." It stars Dame Judith Anderson and David McCallum.

"We tried to do a take-out on the spy melodrama, and we're playing it in the spirit of camp," Schafer said. "I like actors and I like television and I think it is easier to sustain drama in it. We're all backed up together for three intensive weeks of rehearsal and shooting. Then that's it. It's not at all like doing motion pictures in little pieces."

"Mirror, Mirror, Off the Wall" is a David Shaw comedy about a failing writer who turns out a dirty best-seller under a nom de plume with, hopefully, hilarious results in his private life. George C. Scott and Maureen Stapleton star in this one.

The three networks went all out, as usual, in their coverage of Friday's Apollo 12 launching, starting hours before blast-off and staying with it afterwards.

Since the public has watched so many previous launchings and so much of the coverage consists of simulations, animations, interviews and only an occasional glimpse of the departing astronauts and the rocket on its pad, it does seem that the time has come when the TV coverage could be reduced. Coverage of the upcoming moon exploration is, of course, something else.

Perhaps the networks, having started this extensive coverage, don't quite know how to back away gracefully. Except for the awesome sights of the blast-off itself, the proceedings can be followed just as well on the radio. And the radio coverage by the networks was as well organized and learned as that of television.

Bad Monday Weatherwise For Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A series of complex low pressure systems has made this a blustery and wintry Monday across most of the nation.

Throughout the early morning hours, snow spread across the northern and central Rockies and onto the Western Plains pushing rain ahead of it.

Travelers warnings were in effect for expected blowing and drifting snow over an area from Wyoming to Kansas. Two to 3 inches of new snow fell across parts of southern Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah.

The U.S. Weather Bureau was warning of heavy snows for northwestern New Mexico.

Light rain was falling from Texas to Minnesota as well as along the Pacific Coast and in parts of the Southwest.

An Arctic high pressure area along the Middle Atlantic Coast kept temperatures low and skies generally clear.

Predawn temperatures ranged from 8 at Havre, Mont., to 75 at Brownsville, Tex.

Viet Protest Over; Dispute Is Not

WASHINGTON (AP) — The demonstrators who jammed the capital for the biggest peace demonstration in history have gone home, leaving behind a dispute over whether the mass protest against the Vietnam war was peaceful, as they had promised, or violent, as the government had warned.

"I do not believe that, overall, the gathering here can be characterized as peaceful," Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said Sunday of the massive gathering that brought at least a quarter-million war protesters to Washington.

He accused the organizing

New Mobilization Committee of failing to heed Justice Department warnings of potential violence.

"That's a lie," New Mobe project director Ron Young retorted when told of Mitchell's statement. "Yesterday, thousands of people were gassed in Washington by this government. Yesterday, hundreds of people were killed in Vietnam by this government. Yesterday, villages were destroyed in Vietnam by this government."

"Eight hundred thousand came and left this city with only 150 arrests and very few injuries."

Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson had estimated 250,000 demonstrators turned out Saturday. But he said that estimate was modest.

Herbert G. Klein, who speaks for President Nixon, said although the demonstration "again proves that this is a country which allows people to express themselves, I don't think there's a value in trying to form policy for the United States government, or any government, from crowds on the street."

Nixon himself had nothing to say publicly about the demonstration. He went to a football game Sunday after having spent rally day in the White House, conducting official business and watching a televised football match.

Mitchell, contending the gathering had not been peaceful, pointed to two clashes between police and a militant fringe group of the antiwar protesters. Near the South Vietnamese Embassy Friday night, and at the Justice Department Saturday after the rally, the police used tear gas to rout the several thousand militants.

A total of about 130 persons were arrested in the two days—only two in connection with the main march and rally. Most were charged with disorderly conduct and released on posting collateral. No serious injuries were reported, and damage appeared limited to several dozen broken windows.

Mitchell, in a statement delivered to news offices as the last stragglers were hitching rides out of the capital and workmen were cleaning up Sunday, said he was "pleased that the great majority of participants obeyed the law."

"Unfortunately, the planned demonstrations were marred by such extensive physical injury, property damage and street confrontations that I do not believe that, overall, the gathering here can be characterized as peaceful," he said.

The department had hesitated for weeks in granting a parade permit for the main march down Pennsylvania Avenue. Intelligence reports, it said, told of impending violence by militant groups that endangered the capital.

Collection Of Keys That Unlock History

By LINDA HUDSON
Central Press Association
Correspondent

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Rudolph Grah has keys that really do unlock history — keys from the ashes of Pompeii to the mountain fortress of Bergtesgaden where Hitler plotted his mad schemes.

Grah is a San Diego 81-year-old locksmith who collects antique and interesting locks and keys. He sells some, but keeps most of them to display in his shop.

Hitler used three of the keys hanging in Grah's shop to open treasure chests the Nazis had stolen from people all over Europe. Grah says the Germans, instead of forcing the locks, had ordered a friend of his, a locksmith who lives near Bergtesgaden, to make keys to open the chests.

Then, after Hitler died, the locksmith kept the keys and the empty chests. Some 15 years ago, the locksmith changed the locks on the chests and gave the old keys to Grah.

Grah recently returned from

That three-headed, foot-long key (center right) is believed to have once belonged to Cleopatra, the glamorous Egyptian queen.

a trip to the Caribbean, where he looked for keys to pirate treasure chests.

"But I couldn't find any," he says. "Museums have them all now. The same is true in Europe — museums have all the valuable ones."

Grah began collecting keys 30 years ago. In that time he has made 13 trips to Europe, prowling through antique shops, locksmith shops, flea markets and bazaars. He will leave for Europe again in August, still hoping to find some interesting keys.

On a trip in 1961, he was able to finagle a key to the powder room of a Swedish battleship which had foundered in Stockholm Harbor on its maiden voyage in 1664. The Swedes salvaged the warship Vasa and put it on display in Skansen Park in Stockholm, but weren't watching too closely as the key found its way to a Stockholm antique shop, then to Grah.

Grah, born in Solingen, Germany, in 1888, knows all the locksmiths in his native country. He says they often send him interesting keys to add to his collection. So do the many other locksmiths he knows in Europe.

Two of his keys belonged to Leonardo da Vinci who used one to open a three-inch-thick wooden door that led to a strong room where he stored his paintings. The other key led to another room where da Vinci stored the Mona Lisa. Grah bought the key from an antique shop in Florence, where it was on display.

Grah judges the authenticity of the keys by the reputation of the antique dealer or locksmith and by his own extensive knowledge of the history of locksmithing. That's why he believes an ornate key decorated with three women's heads in Egyptian headdress belonged to Cleopatra. An obscure Arabian prince had given the Queen of the Nile a chest of treasure and the key with which to unlock the chest. Grah bought it from an antique store in Nice, France.

Plastic Raincoats Made For Sheep

SYDNEY (AP) — The latest for the well-dressed Australian sheep to wear after shearing is a clear plastic raincoat.

They come in two grades — thin ones at 10 Australian cents (11 US cents) each, and thick ones for 15 cents (16 US cents). It's reckoned they will raise the temperature of the air around the sheep by 15 degrees, and will last a fortnight.

Seven sheep in a thousand die from the cold after shearing in Australia, and that's nearly a million sheep.

But despite that, it's not a financial proposition for the average sheep rancher. The value of the sheep lost works out at 4 cents (4 US cents) a head of those shorn, or about one-fourth of the price of the thick raincoats.

However, the coats are being put forward as a good idea when shearing is done in bleak conditions, and for pregnant ewes and hoggets being shorn for the first time.

Laurelville To Resubmit Levy Vote

Laurelville School renewal levy, defeated in the Nov. 4 election, will be resubmitted to district voters at a special election Dec. 9. The decision was made Friday by Laurelville school board.

The district's total tax millage was dropped below the level required to make the school eligible for state foundation funds when the renewal levy was defeated. A school district is required to tax itself a minimum of 17.5 mills to be eligible for state funds. Defeat of the levy dropped the district's tax millage from 18.85 to 16.25.

Thomas Rose, board clerk, said no special economy measures have been planned by the board and the system "will continue as is" until the renewal levy is passed insuring the vital state funds, or in the event of a second defeat, until operating funds are exhausted.

Post Office Urged To Issue 'Bird Stamp'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Post Office Department has been asked to issue a commemorative stamp honoring the homing pigeon, a bird Otto Meyer of Pittsburgh credits with saving thousands of lives during wartime.

"The homing pigeon is one of the most reliable means of communication ever devised, and that includes all the sophisticated means we have today," said Meyer, a member of the International Federation of American Homing Pigeon Fanciers.

Meyer was the commander of 3,000 pigeons and 54,000 pigeons in the Army Pigeon Service as a major during world War II.

"During combat, 99 per cent of all messages sent by pigeons were received," Meyer said. "It's a delivery record that's never been exceeded. It's not the most expeditious means, but it's the most secure. There's no known method of interception and no effective countermeasure."

Tiny Kashmir Squeezed In Vise

Kashmir lies squeezed in a vise of converging nations, in the Himalayan foothills between heatbaked plains and mountains of eternal snow.

Divided and disputed by India and Pakistan, the beautiful mountain state feels icy winds from the Himalayas dominated by China and China-held Tibet.

From the north, Soviet Russia reaches to within a few miles of Kashmir, and Afghanistan slips between Russia and Pakistan to touch the Kashmir border.

Four million people live within its 86,000 square miles, an area roughly the size of Utah.

Societas Liturgica Names Chairman

LONDON (AP) — Dr. Ronald of England's Liturgical Commission, who is chairman of the Church of England's Liturgical Commission, has been elected chairman of Societas Liturgica at its first conference held in the Benedictine abbey at Glenstal, Ireland. Societas Liturgica is an international society for liturgical research and renewal, founded at Driebergen in Holland two years ago. It has Roman Catholics, Orthodox, Anglicans, Lutherans, Presbyterians and Baptists among its members. Its first chairman was Dom Placid Murray, the Benedictine scholar.

Warfield, Browns Crush Pittsburgh Steelers, 24-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — For catching passes in crowded places, it was Paul Warfield's finest day. He admitted it and his teammates voted him the game ball for it.

The Cleveland Browns' veteran receiver, whose catches Sunday against the Pittsburgh Steelers looked like a study in aerodynamics, caught five for 132 yards and a touchdown.

The Browns, opening a wider lead in the Century Division, defeated the Steelers 24-3.

Warfield, listed at 188 pounds, but admittedly only 180, caught four or five of the passes by making leaping, twisting jumps for Bill Nelsen tosses.

When asked if it was one of his better days, Warfield said:

"I would say for catching the ball under crowded conditions it was the best day I've had this year."

"I was concentrating on the ball. I just didn't think about the danger of going up in the air," Warfield said. "If you do that you can't concentrate."

Warfield actually had a better day than the statistics indicate. He caught two other passes, both for touchdowns which were nullified by penalties.

The first came when Nelsen called a draw play but Leroy Kelly missed the call, and Nelsen had to revise his plans. He did with a perfect toss to Dick Shafarath was down the field as an illegal receiver and the play was called back.

In the fourth quarter, Nelsen hit the slim receiver again for a touchdown on the 12, but the Browns were offside. The next play, Nelsen duplicated the feat when Warfield broke loose in the endzone.

"I guess the third time's a charm," Warfield said.

Warfield admitted jumping for the ball is not the best way to catch it.

"Sometimes I catch it in my body, sometimes in my hands. I guess it's better to catch in your hands because of the possibility of the ball bouncing off your pads."

"But Shorter (Steelers defensive back Jim Shorter) was in good position on most of the passes and I felt I had to stop, then go up for the ball."

"It's just one of the hazards of the profession," the Ohio State graduate said.

Warfield's performance was complemented by Nelsen's passing on a day when he was hurting.

K.C. Chiefs Blast Jets; Win, 34-16

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

"I had a pain out there today," said Otis Taylor, nursing his self-inflicted punctured ribs. The New York Jets also had a pain Sunday—Taylor.

The burly Kansas City receiver shook off the agony of those punctured ribs to haul in two Len Dawson touchdown passes—he already had one TD reception before his accident—as the Chiefs stormed past the Super Bowl champions 34-16 before a record American Football League crowd of 63,849 at Shea Stadium.

The seventh straight triumph for the Chiefs, now 9-1, enabled them to maintain their half-game lead over Oakland, which rallied late to escape San Diego 21-16, heading into next Sunday's showdown between the Western Division powers.

Boston turned back Cincinnati 25-14. Buffalo routed Miami 28-3 and Denver tied Houston 20-20 in other AFL activity.

Taylor, back after a three-game absence because of an abdominal injury, hurt himself in the first half shortly after taking an 18-yard TD pass from Dawson, whose father died two days before the game.

Otis said he had just pulled in a Dawson toss and when "I got hit, my feet left me and my elbow swung and punctured my ribs."

"I played two quarters like that, and every time I got hit it hurt."

Patriots Stop Cincy Bengals; Win 25-14

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Boston linebacker Jim Cheyonski, discovered pumping gas seven years ago by a Patriot part-time scout, is erasing the memory of traded all-pro Nick Buoniconti in a hurry.

Teammates voted Cheyonski the game ball after the 6-2, 200-pounder was credited with six tackles, one fumble recovery and one interception Sunday in Boston's 25-14 American Football League win over Cincinnati.

"His position is a big one for us and we're proud of the way he's filling Nick's big shoes," said defensive captain Houston Antwine, who nominated Cheyonski for the game ball.

Rommie Loudd, now Boston's player personnel director, spotted Cheyonski when he was working in his dad's gas station in a Boston suburb.

Cheyonski went on to Syracuse University, signed with the Patriots and hasn't missed a play since taking over for the injured Buoniconti in the seventh game last year. Buoniconti was traded to Miami.

Cheyonski is only 12 tackles away from Buoniconti's one-season record with the Patriots, who won their second game in the last three weeks for a 2-8 record. Cincinnati slipped to 4-5.

Boston stole three of Bengal rookie quarterback Greg Cook's passes and put the game out of reach by scoring 16 points in less than 2½ minutes of the first quarter for a 19-0 lead.

Cook did succeed in rifling a touchdown pass a 15-yarder to Eric Crabtree in the second quarter. It was the first air score given up by Boston in the last five games.

Southern California-UCLA battle and a representative of the Big Ten, probably Michigan.

However, the Wolverines must face mighty Ohio State in their regular season windup and the top-ranked Buckeyes dealt a blow to Purdue's Rose Bowl hopes over the weekend with a 42-14 trouncing of the 10th-ranked Boilermakers. Under Big Ten rules, Ohio State cannot go back to the Rose Bowl this season.

The athletic directors of the Big Ten schools do the voting for the conference's representative in Pasadena.

Ohio State took its anger out on Purdue, rolling up a 28-7 halftime lead and limiting the heralded Mike Phipps to 19 completions in 45 attempts with five interceptions. Rex Kern, the Buckeyes' quarterback, scored twice and passed for a third touchdown while halfback Leo Hayden broke loose for 130 yards in 14 carries.

"They've got it all," said Coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue, who became a Buckeye believer. "There's no defense better unless it's the Minnesota Vikings." Second-ranked Texas also found a supporter in Fred York's six-game winning streak, but the Jets maintained their comfortable lead in the Eastern Division because of runnerup Houston's tie.

Quarterback Joe Namath managed to complete 24 of 50 passes for 327 yards against the stern Chief defense—best in the AFL—but was intercepted three times. Dawson picked up 298 yards in the air, hitting 22 of 37 passes.

Darryle Lamonica's 81-yard touchdown pass to Warren Wells with just 5:41 left enabled Oakland to pull it out against the stubborn Chargers.

The Chargers, now 8-1-1, had taken a 14-7 halftime lead, but San Diego wiped that out on Dennis Parter's kicks of 18, 31 and 14 yards.

Speedy Duncan staked San Diego to a brief lead in the second quarter, intercepting a Lamonica pass and racing 73 yards to score. But the Raiders tied it on Lamonica's 19-yard strike to Fred Biletnikoff and went ahead a minute later when linebacker Dan Conners pried a pass reception from the hands of Charger tight end Willie Fraizer and dashed 25 yards to paydirt.

Huntington's Neal Scharenberg directed the Huntsmen with 21 points. Randy Cox contributed 16 and Steve Bridenbaugh added 17 to pace their attack.

Laurelville is now 1-2 on the season and will be at Southeastern Friday night.

Purdue Is Winner
In Cattle Judging

TIMONUM, Md. (AP)—Purdue shaded Ohio State by 25 points over the weekend — in cattle judging.

The Buckeyes got 28 more points than the Boilermakers in football Saturday, 42-14.

But at the Eastern National Livestock Show here Sunday, a seven-man team from Purdue took both team and individual honors with 4,456 points out of a possible 5,000. Ohio State was second with 4,431.

But at the Eastern National Livestock Show here Sunday, a seven-man team from Purdue took both team and individual honors with 4,456 points out of a possible 5,000. Ohio State was second with 4,431.

Georgia Tech came word from Ed "Moose" Krause, the athletic director, that "if we get a bowl bid, I would present it to the athletic board and I think they would accept it."

"I think the players would want to," added Krause, "and we would want to play one of the top teams rated ahead of us."

Bowl invitations cannot be presented before 11 a.m. Monday and the Irish are sure to be high on the list since they have received and turned down bids in each of the five years Ara Parseghian has coached Notre Dame.

Ranked ninth with a 6-1-1 record following a 38-20 victory over Georgia Tech Saturday night, Notre Dame figures to be high on the lists of the Orange, Sugar and Cotton bowls.

Reports are the players voted before the Georgia Tech game in favor of a post season contest, with the Orange Bowl their first choice.

Parseghian, who has always been in favor of bowl games but accepted Notre Dame's previous policy banning post season competition, preferably wants to meet an undefeated team ranked ahead of Notre Dame.

Krause said if a bid is extended the players would vote first followed by the Athletic Board headed by the Rev. Edmond P. Joyce. The final decision then would come from the Board of Trustees, a majority of whom are in favor of a bowl game now that the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, university president, no longer objects to post season games.

Elsewhere, Atlanta clawed Chicago, 48-31; New Orleans upended New York, 25-24, and Detroit blanked St. Louis, 20-0.

"They (the Eagles) are a considerably improved football team and one certainly to be reckoned with in several years," said Allen. But he admitted he was not too worried about the first half score.

It was another game in the second half, however, as the Rams' defense galvanized and shot down a bunch of Eagles. Los Angeles defenders, led by safety Ed Meador's fumble recovery and pass interception, scored or set up 16 last half points as the Rams galloped back.

San Francisco topped Baltimore for the second time this season, and the setback just about ruined the Colts' chances of defending their league crown. The 49ers won it in the final two minutes on John Brodie's 18-yard touchdown pass to rookie Jim Thomas.

Cox kicked field goals of 10, 12 and 20 yards as the Vikings buried the Pack.

"If you're going to get big field goals, there's only one way to be—real close," Cox said.

"They had the balls right there for me," Cox said of the

Wittenberg Tops Ashland; Accepts Stagg Bowl Bid

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wittenberg, one of Ohio's winningest teams, stretched its season skin to 8-0 Saturday and accepted the NCAA's bid to host the first Ames Alonzo Stagg Bowl Nov. 29.

The Tigers, Ohio Conference champions and 18th-ranked in the AP's small college poll, join Mid-American Conference champ Toledo in accepting a bowl bid.

Wittenberg will face William Jewell College of Liberty, Mo. in the Stagg Bowl to determine the winner of the NCAA's College Division II western championship.

Saturday, Wittenberg whipped Ashland 33-16 on the strength of Rocky Alt's four touchdown passes. Three of the Tigers' scores came in the fourth quarter as they bounced back from a 16-13 deficit.

Undefeated (9-0) Toledo, assured of a Tangerine Bowl date with Davidson Dec. 26, blanked Dayton 20-0. Its bowl invitation is automatic by virtue of the Mid-Am championship.

In the only MAC game of the day, Kent State surprised Miami 17-14. Of the other Mid-teams, Ohio University crushed Cincinnati 46-6 and Bowling Green fell to West Texas State 28-12.

Rex Kern and company turned back Purdue 46-14, virtually killing the Boilermakers' chances for a Rose Bowl trip.

Kern scored twice and passed for a third touchdown as his Purdue counterpart, Heisman Trophy candidate Mike Phipps, allowed the Buckeye defense to pressure him into five interceptions. It was the 22nd straight win for No. 1-ranked Ohio State.

Kent State won its only Mid-Am game of the season on the strength of quarterback Ted Bowersox' touchdown run, field goal and two points after. The game closed out the MAC season with Bowling Green finishing second behind Toledo, defending champ Ohio U. and Miami tied for third and Western Michigan and Kent together in the basement.

Two Ohio U. subs playing for injured starters stole the show against Cincinnati. Steve Skiver, in for ailing quarterback Cleve Bryant, scored twice and threw a touchdown pass and 155-pound Paul Kapostasy, who replaced Dave LeVeck, made a pair of touchdowns, one on a 73-yard run.

Xavier won its first game of the season, turning back Quantico Marines 9-7 on Ivy Williams' 95-yard second half kickoff return and Ed Huber's field goal.

Toledo scored twice in the first six minutes of play then held Dayton seven first downs as the Flyers slipped to 3-7 on the season.

Notre Dame To Reverse Old Ruling, Accept Grid Bowl Bid

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame is expected to end its 45-year-old self-imposed bowl ban today with the only question being where the Irish will play.

Athletic Director Ed "Moose" Krause said Sunday, "If we get a bowl bid, I would present it to the Athletic Board and I think they would accept it."

Pacers Beat L.A. Stars; Nets Losers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

East met West in the American Basketball Association Sunday night and it wasn't even close. The Indiana Pacers, leaders in the Eastern Division, beat the Los Angeles Stars 129-113 and unseated the Stars from sole possession of first place in the West.

The Stars dropped into a tie for the lead with Washington and New Orleans as Bob Netolicky poured in a career high 43 points for the Pacers.

In other ABA games, Washington gained a tie for the Western lead by beating the New York Nets 121-117, Miami crushed Carolina 139-107 and Denver edged Dallas 89-87.

In Saturday's games, Kentucky beat Indiana 115-111, Miami crushed Pittsburgh 135-115 and New Orleans edged Dallas 101-98.

In the National Basketball Association Sunday, Atlanta beat Phoenix 139-118, Los Angeles whipped Philadelphia 138-125 and Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 129-123 in overtime.

Netolicky scored 17 of his points in the second period when the Pacers, defending ABA champions, took a 58-50 halftime lead.

Larry Brown plunked in four free throws in the last seven seconds to win it for Washington after the Nets had tied the game 115-115 with 55 seconds left to play.

Goalies Need Help In NHL Contests

The defensemen needed no defense around the National Hockey League today. But because of them, a couple of goalies could use a little help.

Boston's spectacular Bobby Orr increased his NHL scoring lead Sunday night by assisting on four Bruins' goals in a 7-4 romp over Los Angeles. The four points gave Orr 29 for the season and kept him in front of the scoring race—a spot usually reserved for the hot-shooting forwards around the league.

In New York, defenseman Arnie Brown ribbed two goals, assisted on a third and the Rangers dropped St. Louis 4-2 for their fifth straight victory. In Sunday's only other game, Stan Mikita scored with less than three minutes to play, giving Chicago a 1-0 victory over Montreal.

Baseball Manager

Billy Southworth Dies

SUNBURY, Ohio (AP) — To millions of baseball fans, "Billy the Kid" Southworth was the winningest manager in baseball, but to a bunch of kids in this small hamlet he was always "Mr. Southworth."

Southworth, who was 76, was born in Harvard, Neb., in 1893, and died Saturday in Columbus, where he will be buried Tuesday.

Massive Set Of Experiments Planned For Apollo 12 Crew

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Could storms of radiation particles from the sun, constantly blowing through space, be exploited someday to rid earth of its growing air pollution problem?

Is the moon a cold, rock-like asteroid or is it like earth—hot and molten inside and solid on the crust?

Does the moon tremble from within, and does it perhaps have a very thin atmosphere of particles created by decomposing lunar material?

Answers to these mysteries, and others, could be revealed by a $25 million array of scientific experiments to be set up Wednesday on the moon's Ocean of Storms.

Far more elaborate than the two experiments left by the Apollo 11 astronauts last July, Apollo 12's scientific bundle consists of five instruments to be powered by a nuclear electric generator, the first atomic generator ever carried on a manned space flight.

Called ALSEP, for Advanced Lunar Surface Experiments Package, the array is expected to beam data to earth for at least one year and perhaps two. It includes:

—A seismometer almost identical to one carried on Apollo 11 to register moonquakes, meteor impacts and rockslides down crater walls. Data from the device could tell scientists much about the moon's internal structure—whether it's hard like a rock all the way through, has a molten inner core like earth or is a broken-up structure without a pattern.

—A lunar ionosphere detector, which will study charged gas particles created when Apollo 12's landing craft blasts off from the moon—detecting the rate the gases dissipate and thus evaluate the moon's ability to retain an atmosphere.

Some scientists believe solar radiation storms constantly blowing through space would rapidly strip away any atmosphere on the moon, carrying the particles to points beyond the solar system. They have suggested it might be possible to exploit this to help eliminate air pollution on earth.

The idea—looking into the distant future—would be to put pollution forming industries on the lunar surface, reserving earth as a healthy place to live.

—A magnetometer to detect and measure lunar magnetic fields generated by those same solar storms sweeping by the moon. The intensity of the magnetic field depends on the moon's internal temperature, scientists say, so data from the device should give researchers a better idea on how hot the moon's interior actually is.

—Solar wind spectrometer to analyze what particles are in those radiation storms. Data from the instrument will help scientists better understand potential hazards to space travelers.

—Lunar atmosphere detector to study any gas particles created by decomposing lunar material. The device could provide new information on the possible presence of volcanoes on the moon and help scientists better understand what chemical materials are in the lunar soil.

Six Answer Draft Call

Six registrants, including one volunteer, were inducted into the Armed Forces Nov. 10 through Selective Service. All will serve with the U.S. Army.

Red Cross and Sertoma Club presented each man with a gift packet prior to their departure from Circleville. Also, coffee and doughnuts, donated by Lindsey's Bakery, were served to the inductees by Red Cross Volunteers.

The volunteer was Daniel F. Darst of 620 S. Court St. Others in the draft call were Lloyd G. Walls, 326 Crites Rd.; Clifford J. Nutter, Ashville; Walter L. Dilley, 127 Pontious Lane; Gene L. Dyke, 218 Corwin St.; and Jerry L. Showalter, Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Gandhi Wins Support Of Her Party

NEW DELHI (AP) — Despite the defection of 65 conservatives from her Congress party, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi appeared assured of a majority without having to rely on Communist support today as India's Parliament opened its winter session.

The Congress party's old guard leaders, who expelled Mrs. Gandhi from the party last Wednesday in a move that was repudiated at a party caucus the next day, formed a new parliamentary opposition group. It claimed 65 members in the lower house, the largest opposition faction.

The split left Mrs. Gandhi's wing of the party with 217 members, 43 short of a majority of the 518-member Parliament. But the promised support of at least 25 independents and 25 members of the Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam party of southern Madras assured her a majority of at least 16.

The 43 Communists in Parliament also back Mrs. Gandhi, but she would consider it an embarrassment to have to rely on them for support.

Wylie Honored By ACA For Vote Record

Chalmers P. Wylie, United States Representative from the 15th District of Ohio, which includes Pickaway County, was honored today in the Nation's Capital.

Congressman Wylie was presented the Distinguished Service Award by the board of trustees of the non-partisan Americans for Constitutional Action. ACA's board of trustees is composed of such notable Americans as Admiral Ben Moreell, Charles A. McManus and Gordon Scherer.

ACA's Distinguished Service Award is bestowed every two years upon those legislators whose voting records in the Congress of the United States support legislation which serve to strengthen and defend the spirit and principles of the Constitution of the United States.

In presenting the award to Congressman Wylie, Admiral Ben Moreell, chairman of the board of trustees, stated: "On behalf of our trustees, I have you and thanking you for your Congress and devotion to those fundamental principles of good government which serve to promote individual rights and responsibilities; a sound dollar; a growing economy and a desire for victory over communist aggression."

"The acceptance of this award does not imply that you are in complete agreement with all of the principles espoused by ACA nor does it imply any commitment for you to support 'them in' future," emphasized Admiral Moreell. "Our purpose is solely to honor you for your dedication to the Constitution of the United States."

Congressman Wylie is now serving his second term as a member of the United States Congress and serves on the important Banking and Currency Committee.

Joe Kennedy

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston, a long-time family friend, said Sunday that he had received a telephone call from the family "advising me that he had a very serious setback, and it seems that the good Lord is about to take him in the foreseeable future."

Besides Edward and his family and the Shivers, other members of the family at the compound included Patricia Kennedy Lawford and Jean Kennedy Smith, whose husband Stephen also was there.

Jacqueline Onassis, widow of the late president, was en route back to the Cape from Europe.

And a family spokesman said Ethel Kennedy, widow of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, had been notified of the elder Kennedy's condition and might return to the Cape also.

Notre Dame Accepts Bid To Play In Cotton Bowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame accepted a bid today to play either Texas or Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas on New Year's Day.

The decision, reversing Notre Dame's policy against postseason football, sends the Irish to their first bowl appearance since the fabled Four Horsemen team defeated Stanford and Ernie Nevers 27-10 in the 1925 Rose Bowl.

The announcement was made by the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of the university and chairman of the faculty board in control of athletics.

Father Joyce pointed out that "bowl-connected activities of the football team will fall largely on vacation time." Notre Dame's Christmas vacation runs from Dec. 16 to Jan. 5.

Father Joyce said "the crucial consideration" involved an urgent need by Notre Dame for funds to finance minority student academic programs and scholarships.

Notre Dame's share of the Cotton Bowl receipts is guessed to be between $250,000 and $300,000.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee accepted today an invitation to meet Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville Dec. 27.

The Volunteers beat Texas A&M in the 1957 Gator game and trounced Syracuse 18-12 in the 1966 contest.

MIAMI (AP) — Unbeaten Penn State, which throws the football only in emergencies, will face Missouri and record-smashing passer Terry McMillan in the Orange Bowl game the night of Jan. 1, it was officially announced today.

ATHENS, Va. (AP) — The University of Georgia voted today to accept an invitation to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex.

Athletic director Joel Eaves said the Georgia seniors voted to accept the invitation which was extended shortly after noon EST.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Alabama's thrice-beaten Crimson Tide accepted a bid today to be the host team in the 1969 Liberty Bowl football game.

"The committee voted unanimously to extend a bid to the University of Alabama," said Tim Treadwell III, chairman of the Liberty Bowl Selection Committee. "We are proud to announce the university has accepted a bid to play in our game Dec. 13."

Treadwell said the committee hoped to be able to name Alabama's opponent later this week.

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Leonard Farbstein introduced today a bill requiring packagers of perishable foods to put on the label the date after which it can not safely be used.

"The store manager should not be the only one able to recognize fresh food," said the New York Democrat, noting many stores have an internal system of coding foods with a date beyond which they will spoil if left on shelves.

The measure would allow the secretary of health, education and welfare to determine how long a food can be kept before deteriorating and require the packager to print it on the label.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three employees of Shell Chemical Co. had jobs with a federal agency which deliberated for five years before issuing labeling restrictions for "Shell's 'No-Pest Strip,'" a House committee says. The finding raises "serious conflict of interest questions," the House Government Operations Committee said in a report issued Sunday.

Two of the Shell employees held positions with the Department of Agriculture's Pesticide Regulation Division and a third was appointed to a task force studying operations of the division.

"This report, together with reports of the General Accounting Office, documents an almost incredible failure by the USDA Pesticides Regulation Division over a long period of years to carry out its responsibilities," said chairman Rep. L. H. Fountain, D-N.C.

Israelis Want Retribution For Arab Frogman Attack

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli newspapers today angrily demanded swift retribution for an attack by Egyptian frogmen on Israeli ships in the southern Israeli port of Eilat.

Cairo indicated the frogmen took off from the Jordanian port of Aqaba, which faces Eilat across three miles of the Gulf of Aqaba.

"Jordan is responsible for the acts committed from its territory, and it could not have been unaware of plans for this one," said the semiofficial paper Davar.

The last time Eilat was hit—by Arab rockets seven months ago—Israel retaliated with an air raid on Aqaba.

"Aqaba, Jordan's only sea outlet, could be completely paralyzed without a single Israeli soldier crossing the frontier," said the English-language Jerusalem Post, "and there is nothing the Jordanians could do to prevent this from happening."

"It is unthinkable that Israel will not repay the attackers with a strong hand," commented Haaretz.

The papers mentioned the "gentleman's agreement" between Israel and Jordan whereby the two ports are off limits to attack because of their mutual vulnerability.

Israel's cabinet planned a special session today, presumably to approve plans for retaliatory action.

Israeli military authorities at first thought Sunday's raid was staged by Arab guerrillas based in Jordan. But Cairo took the credit, claiming the "destruction and sinking" of three ships.

Cairo spokesmen said the frogmen were Egyptian regulars, dropped near the port by air craft Sunday morning, and that they returned safely to Egyptian territory after accomplishing "their heroic mission successfully."

Israeli officials said five football-sized holes were blown in the hulls of two ships, the beaching of one being needed to keep it from sinking. Spokesmen in Tel Aviv said the ships were the 1,800-ton freighter Hey Daroma and the 13,700-ton freighter Dalia.

The Cairo statement claimed that "the targets were enemy vessels which took part in the recent assault against our Suez Gulf position. Those ships were equipped to be used for military operations... These ships had carried enemy troops to attack our coastal positions."

Israeli spokesmen said the Hey Daroma was sometimes used to carry military supplies. Israeli naval vessels made a search for the frogmen, but Tel Aviv spokesmen said they escaped.

Israeli spokesmen said they escaped.
